Double-Deck Parking Lots Bonds Planned

San Rafael Council Adopts Resolution For $250,000 Issue

A resolution of intention to issue $250,000 in downtown parking district bonds to double-deck two municipal parking lots was adopted unanimously last night by the San Rafael City Council.

The lots to be double-decked are those at Fifth Avenue and C Street and at Third Street and Lootens Place. The double-decking will add 127 parking spaces. Total cost, including bond service, is estimated at just over $300,000, or about $2,400 per space.

MONEY ON HAND

There is money on hand in both the parking district fund and parking meter fund to more than make up the difference between the bond issue's yield and the total cost, said City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen.

The resolution directed the city engineer to prepare an estimate of the cost of the improvements. An estimate of annual revenues to be expected will be furnished by Stone and Youngberg, financial consultants.

ENGINEER HIRED

City Manager Andersen said that, as City Engineer Dominic Selmi is not a structural engineer, he had engaged Roy H. Hoffman of Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton to do the engineering at a 5½ per cent fee. This was approved by the council.

Mayor John F. McInnis noted that the move to provide the additional parking spaces has been endorsed by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce board of directors, its traffic committee, and its downtown merchants committee.

Funds In Budget For San Rafael Irwin Entrance

By WAT TAKESHITA

The congested and confusing Irwin Street entrance to San Rafael should be cleared up by summer of 1965, with a half-million-dollar improvement project included in the new state budget.

W. Preston Smith, assistant district engineer for the State Division of Highways, said today the big job will be to extend Grand Avenue over the canal and tying into Francisco Boulevard just north of Turko-Persian Rug Co.

The Irwin Street undercrossing will then be sealed off, eliminating cross-traffic that causes tie-ups during every commute rush, Smith pointed out.

Second Street will be one-way eastbound and Third Street one-way westbound.

"We hope to have the entire project advertised for bids this summer, and work should start about August," said Smith. He said the job should be completed by summer of 1965.

Two other items included in the new state budget are $231,000 for median barriers from Marin City underpass to Greenbrae, and $180,000 for reconstructing shoulders and drains on Highway 101 from Black Point cutoff to the Sonoma County line.

Bids will be opened Thursday in Sacramento for the median barriers, to run for five and one-half miles. South of the pedestrian overcrossing near Sabella's Restaurant, double blocked out metal beam barriers will be installed. North of the overcrossing will be a combination of the metal beam and standard cable chain-link fencing.

Experimental glare-reduction materials will be woven into the chain link fencing. "But the main purpose of the median barriers is for traffic safety — preventing cars from crossing the center line," said Smith.

BRITTON REY
'One-man city hall' retiring

Belvedere City Mgr. Rey Quits

Britton Rey last night submitted his resignation as city manager of Belvedere, effective at the end of the fiscal year next June 30.

Rey's retirement will also leave Belvedere without a building inspector or a city clerk—unless someone else is elected clerk in the April 14 municipal election.

And his wife, who is city treasurer, also plans to retire at the end of her term in April, Rey said today.

City councilmen, whom Rey had informed in advance of his intention, accepted the resignation with little discussion; but all agreed with Councilman Sally Matthews, who said, "I think the whole thing is a dreadful idea."

Rey has been city manager since Jan. 1, 1954. He has been city clerk since June, 1947, and building inspector since 1952.

Present pay scale for the city manager is $761 to $927 per month. Rey receives $75 per month as city clerk, and

Corte Madera Lowers Boom On Dances

Corte Madera Town Council last night lowered the boom on any hope for a scheduled teen-age dance Saturday night at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

It said yes—by 4-1 vote—to the recommendation of Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow that a business license be denied dance promoter Edward S. Margoliash, 21, of Ross. (See Today's Editorial, page 6)

Dissenting was Albert E. Kogler, who was also the lone dissenter in a recent vote by council to limit dances to three in a 60-day period.

The council action was result of a dance Jan. 25 to which a large number of Marin County law enforcement officers were summoned to break up a milling group of youths outside the center.

William B. Wolfson, attorney representing Margoliash, argued that teen-agers inside the dance were not responsible for the incident, but those outside who couldn't get in.

"Punish the bad elements," he urged. "Don't punish those who behave themselves." He presented a petition signed by 390 students at Redwood High

How To Make San Francisco Bay Into Lake

By FRED WYATT

San Francisco Bay would look more like a lake than a world-renowned harbor if all the areas susceptible to fill were filled, according to a remodeling of the San Francisco Bay model at Sausalito, to go on public display beginning tomorrow.

How Marin land areas might be enlarged was explained today by tidal hydraulic engineer E. A. Schultz of the Army Corps of Engineers at the model site at 2000 Bridgeway.

Richardson Bay would be shrunk to a channel northward from Sausalito, the bay waters south of Corte Madera's marshlands would be filled as far as San Quentin Prison, and much water area south of San Rafael would become land.

As the bay waters south from the Bay Bridge would be shrunk to a channel, so would the waters east of San Rafael as they extend into San Pablo Bay.

Most of the filling of the model, which covers nearly three areas, was done last week. It will be "in operation"

College Tax Credit Proposal Is Beaten

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today narrowly beat down, 48-45, a proposal to allow a special income tax credit for parents putting their children through college.

The vote was a major victory for the Johnson administration, which had marshaled all its forces to try to defeat the proposal as an amendment to the 11.6-billion-dollar tax cut bill.

NIXON SAYS NIKITA MOST ABLE LEADER

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is "without qualification the most able all-around world leader today."

Nixon addressed an audience at Pfeiffer College.

"He (Khrushchev) is not the most admirable; he is not the most brainy — de Gaulle gets that spot," said Nixon, "but he has a steel-like determination."

Nixon said he did not include President Lyndon B. Johnson because "I do not think Johnson has had a chance yet to be judged in the arena of world affairs."

Nixon added he does not expect to be the Republican presidential candidate this year.

Rights Unit Created By Supervisors

The Marin County Human Rights Commission was formally created today by the county board of supervisors.

Myron Hicks, one of the four persons named to a steering committee to draw up a resolution to create the group, said the nucleus of the commission would meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo to map plans for a program and start selecting other members.

Only one change was made in the resolution. Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who moved approval, asked that the commission be instructed to work not only with the supervisors but directly with city councils. Hicks said the change was helpful.

The group will have about 20 members, including representatives of labor, employers, realty brokers, minority groups, the board of supervisors, three from city councils representing different sections of the county, the coordinating council of racial equality, the clergy, and three from the community at large.

Bond Ballot Slated For Town Building

Preparation of a resolution putting a $180,000 bond issue for a new public safety building on the April 14 municipal election ballot was authorized last night by the Corte Madera Town Council.

The council stipulated, however, that Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis include in the resolution the possibility of adding $20,000 for constructing a new second firehouse as part of the bond issue.

This would make a total issue of $200,000. The council said it would consider the inclusion of the firehouse, which would be constructed on the east side of Highway 101, and reach a decision by its Feb. 17 meeting.

The station would replace the existing building on Paradise Drive across from the Embee Market. Deadline for getting the entire bond issue on the ballot is Feb. 28.

Total cost of construction of the safety building, which would house police and fire department headquarters, could rise to $294,000, city officials have said, but only the construction cost would be included in the bond issue.

Eugene E. Crawford, architect, last night presented latest plans for the building. An alternate plan for leaving the upstairs firemen's dormitory and police conference rooms temporarily unfinished was rejected by council because it postponed investment of only $6,400.

Board Passes Animal Law

The Marin County board of supervisors today passed what it hoped will be a uniform ordinance for animal control, to be used by both the county and the cities within it.

The action came over objections by supervisor William D. Fusselman, who said he wanted leash law provisions of the old ordinance to stay in the new one.

Under the old county ordinance, dogs not on leash in unincorporated areas could be impounded. The new ordinance allows animal control officers to pick up unleased dogs only in certain areas, such as parks and school grounds, and dogs

Relief Is Voted For Dam Disaster Victims

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly today quickly passed and sent to the Senate a bill clearing the way for immediate insurance relief for up to 2,000 victims of the Baldwin Hills Dam disaster in Los Angeles last December.

The 72-0 vote came minutes after the rules committee sped the measure to the lower house.

Coach Settles For $300,000

Birmingham, Ala. (UPI)—Alabama football coach Paul (Bear) Bryant and the Curtis Publishing Co. today agreed to settle his two libel suits totaling 10.5 million dollars against the Saturday Evening Post out of court for $300,000.

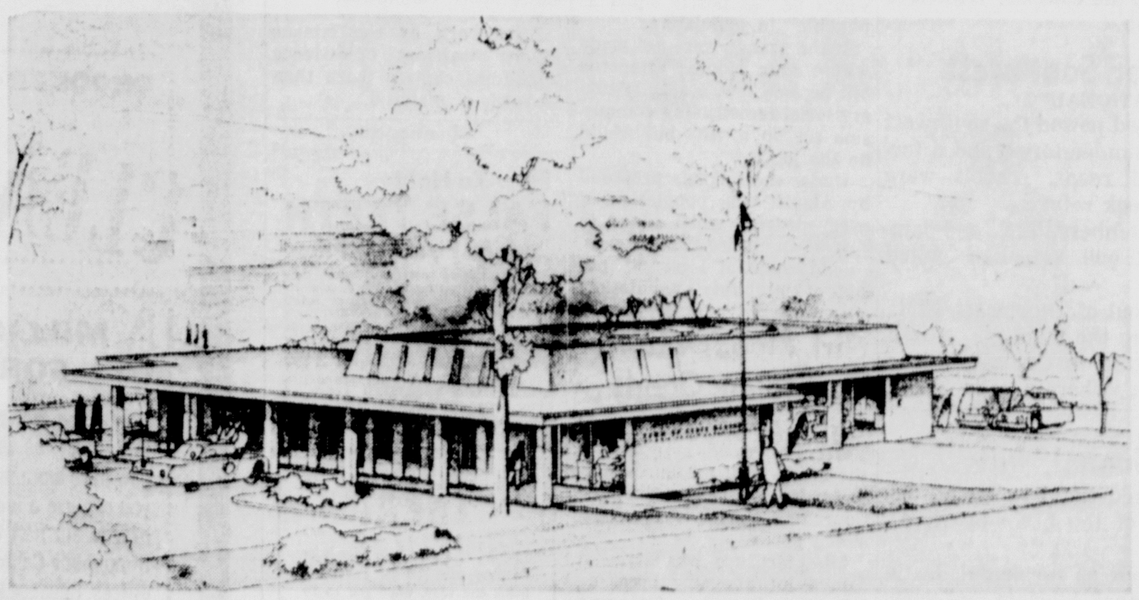

The settlement covered Bryant's 10-million-dollar suit for an article in the post entitled "Story of a College Football Fix," and an earlier article entitled "College Football is Going Berserk." Both mentioned Byrant prominently.

"The $300,000, paid by the Curtis Publishing Co. is the amount which has been agreed upon as conpensation to coach Bryant for injury and damage to his personal reputation . . . ," Curtis attorneys said.

License Penalty Midnight Tonight

Motorists lined up outside the State Department of Motor Vehicles office in San Rafael today to purchase 1964 auto license tabs before the penalty would take effect.

The office was to close at 5 p.m. today but car owners could still avoid penalty by mailing their applications, getting them postmarked before midnight tonight.

PROPOSED POLICE-FIRE HEADQUARTERS—This sketch of a proposed $180,000 public safety building for the Town of Corte Madera was presented to the town council by architect Eugene E. Crawford last night as it voted to place a bond issue for construction on the April 14 municipal election ballot. An additional $20,000 for a new second firehouse may be added, councilmen said.

DAGGER IN CHEEK

Clare Booth Luce Announces Her Platform—If She Were Running

NEW YORK (AP) — Clare Booth Luce took dead aim at the 1964 crop of presidential platform.

It was strictly tongue in cheek—or dagger in cheek.

The former Republican congresswoman and one-time ambassador to Italy said in an interview: "I'd enter the New Hampshire primary in a minute if I had a campaign manager, an organization and a political base. I've certainly got the program."

The program?

"I am for the 35-hour week without any increase in labor costs.

"I favor a college education for everyone regardless of race, creed or pre-entrance intelligence quotas.

"I am for lifting everyone off the social bottom. In fact, I am for doing away with the social bottom altogether.

"I am for victory in Vietnam without any increase in U.S. casualties or expenditures. I am also for neutralization of Vietnam as soon as General de Gaulle apologizes for having suggested it.

CLARE BOOTH LUCE
Certainly has the program

"I am for raising living standards of the world by deep and judicious pruning of U.S. aid.

"I am for licking the stuffing out of Khrushchev while relaxing U.S.-USSR tensions.

"I am for supporting the European Common Market as an outlet for more American chickens and British agricultural products.

"I am for doing away with all military juntas except those we bring into power.

"I am for the independence and sovereignty of the young, immature African nations and the abandonment of the independence and sovereignty of all the old, mature European nations.

"I am for a vigorous two-party system in which my party will control the White House, all the governorships and over 75 per cent of Congress."

Did Mrs. Luce think the presidential race could afford another woman candidate?

"Actually I nominated Sen. Margaret Chase Smith for vice president in 1952, if you remember, and I'd be delighted to vote for her if she is nominated," the blonde playwright-author said.

Bagley Hits Brown Budget On Welfare

Claims State's Education Suffers By Recommendation

By I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has "again recommended an inordinate increase in welfare spending," Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) charged yesterday as the record 3.6-billion-dollar budget went before the legislature.

"Whereas he (the governor) claims primary priority for education, we see a 70-million-dollar increase in total welfare spending and a near 20 per cent increase in the Aid to Needy Children program," said Bagley. "This increase is just not needed.

"Meanwhile education suffers by the governor's recommendation for only 35-million-dollars of new state money for basic education aid."

Bagley also criticized the governor's request for 760-million-dollars in new bond issues to be split between June and November ballots. "If such bonds are to be proposed, at the very least they should be on the same ballot for public appraisal," declared Bagley.

McCARTHY RE-ELECTED

SACRAMENTO — State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) was re-elected yesterday as Senate minority leader and vice chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, as the 1964 session opened yesterday.

He heads the 17 Republicans in the State Senate, which has a total membership of 40.

TIDELANDS BILL

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A strong bill to strip Long Beach of any direct share in revenues from its rich tidelands oil fields confronted the legislature today.

The measure introduced yesterday by Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel), was the first step in what could become a heated controversy over who should get how much from the lucrative oil profits.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown put the item on the special session agenda over opposition from Long Beach legislators and the two key Democratic legislative leaders, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and Hugh M. Burns, Senate president pro tem.

REAPPORTIONMENT

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Most counties in the state would be forced to reapportion their supervisorial districts under legislation introduced yesterday in the Assembly.

The bill was sponsored by Assemblyman Alfred E. Alquist (D-San Jose).

The measure would require supervisors in noncharter counties to adjust boundaries of their districts on the basis of the 1960 federal census so they would be "as nearly equal as possible" in population.

If the change were not made within four months after the bill became law, a special supervisorial redistricting commission set up by the bill would do the job.

Under the formula proposed by Alquist, the population of every district, when added to that of any other two districts, should equal at least 50 per cent of the county's population.

Partisan Legislature Battle Shaping Up

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Just as sure as it's an election year, the California Legislature is headed toward another partisan outing—maybe a long one.

The session that opened yesterday bristled with signs of a renewal of the 1963 fight between the two parties despite a peace gesture by the Assembly's Democratic majority.

The parisan tone showed in the skirmish that preceded re-election of Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) by a lopsided "coalition" of 48 Democrats and one Republican.

All 27 other Republican abstained.

Again, it was mainly Democrats applauding and Republicans denouncing Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget message and his 3.66-billion-dollar request to pay the state's 1964-65 bills.

The Assembly's Republican caucus chairman, Don Mulford of Oakland, assailed the Democrats administration's program as 'the biggest spending spree" in California annals.

Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) who was returned as Senate president pro tem without a contest, reserved judgment in the governor's budget.

The budget session is limited by law to 30 days. The concurrent special session can continue indefinitely, however. So far, Brown has opened it up to 42 items.

Legislative leaders expect to recess no later than tomorrow until March 2 to permit budget-screening by committees of both houses. Assembly Ways and Means Chairman Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda) said his committee will start hearings Monday.

Nobody was really surprised that Unruh won re-elction as Assembly speaker, or that Carlos Bee (D-Hayward) stayed on as speaker pro tem. More people were startled by the new Unruh physical image.

Unruh was flirting with the 300-pound mark when he an Assembly Republicans battled over the budget bill last year, and he locked them up overnight.

He has dieted down to 195, and looks positively thin. Aids remarked it'll be tough for opponents to use the "Big Daddy" title that he dislikes.

Before yesterday's election, majority Democrats junked what Republicans had termed punitive house rules adopted at the close of the stormy 1963 special session.

Hale Ashcroft (R-Rancho Santa Fe) broke away and supported Unruh.

Ashcroft explained he felt it inconsistent not to cast a ballot in view of the fact that the Democrats had rescinded the disputed rule.

Webb testified at the opening of hearings on the space authorization bill before the house space committee.

CLASS PRESENTS FLAG AS GIFT

The senior class of Marin Catholic High School is presenting the school with a large blue-and-white flag as a traditional gift from departing students. The flag bears an eternal flame emblem, a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy, and an identical flag is being sent Mrs. Kennedy. From left are Bob Mellin Jr., 16, who drew up flag plans; Peter Del Tredici, 18, who originated the design, and Dan Abballo, 17, class president. (Independent-Journal photo)

CLOSED TAM HIGH CAMPUS GONE OVER

District Board Doesn't Like Idea Of Little 'Berlin Wall,' Defers Action For One Month

The Tamalpais High School District board, not liking the idea of a little "Berlin Wall," last night deferred for one month decision on the proposal for a closed campus at Tamalpais High School.

The wall would be in the form of a chain link fence around the rear of the campus, as outlined by Principal Robert H. Prather, who asked that the campus be closed immediately.

Board Chairman John C. Siemens commented, "We all abhor fences."

To board member James M. Stubblebine, a psychiatrist, "it is a problem of human behavior. A fence will only limit the arena of the problem."

Told by Prather that off-duty sheriff's deputies are difficult to recruit as special police at school functions, and that there is a large turnover of noontime supervisors, Stubblebine said, "this is a sad commentary on the student body and the community as a whole."

Prather was asked what percentage of incidents are caused by persons not from the high school. He replied that of five incidents last week, one was caused by outsiders.

Prather described his program of "internal education" designed to alert parents and warn students. It consists of meetings with groups of parents, faculty and students, and student leaders.

The board approved all of Prather's plans for making the closed campus more attractive for students, but deferred action on actually closing the campus until March 2 meeting.

More on-campus eating facilities will be set up and movies, dances and such recreation as table tennis will be made available for the students at lunch time.

Raymond Bell, physical education teacher who was to become assistant principal in September, will become a second assistant principal now to aid in supervision of the students. He will work with Charles C. Crawford, present assistant principal.

Concert At Dominican Rewarding

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

An evening of glorious melody was the reward of those who attended last night's orchestral concert presented in Angelico Hall as one of the programs in the Dominican College artist series.

The musical fare, consisting of 18th and early 19th century Selections played by 21 San Francisco symphony musicians directed by John Hiersoux, must have been especially satisfying to those who are allergic to dissonance.

New to Marin, Hiersoux conducted in a crisp, spare and incisively rhythmic style without flourishes or sentimentality. Fourteen strings, augmented by French horns, flutes, bassoons and oboes in the Mozart and Schubert works, made up the ensemble.

Though the ensemble playing was smooth and nicely balanced, a large part of the enjoyment was due to excellent soloists.

In the "Concerto Grosso in A Minor, Op. 3, No. 8," they were violinists Silvio and Ferdinand Claudio, whose purity of tone was especially notable in the unaccompanied passages.

In the "Clarinet Concert in A Major, K. 622" by Mozart, Philip Fath's flexible and sinuous melodic line had a rhythmic grace that was the very embodiment of the Mozartan spirit. Paul Renzi's glittering technique and silvery tone made the "Flute Concerto" by Boccherini a tour de force revealing the full capacity of the flute.

Rocco 17 Is Reactivated In Mill Valley

Recco 17 was reactivated last night by the Mill Valley City Council to work on the community and youth center.

Recco, short for recreational council, was mainly responsible for acquiring the 17-acre recreational parcel in the marshland on which is the center building, Optimist Club ball park and Southern Marin Horsemens' Assn. ring are located.

The council, on request from Mrs. John A. Thomson in the audience, agreed to reaffirm an earlier statement on the community center as clarified by motions already made by parks and recreation commissioners.

The council's statement is in part: "Participation in the building and using of a Mill Valley Community and Youth Center will not be limited to residents of the city but must include all people who are geographically aligned with Mill Valley . . . regardless of race, color or creed."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Rudebeck and Ernest Pixley said they strongly oppose including all Tamalpais High students. They said the center should be for the exclusive use of citizens and taxpayers of Mill Valley or, at most, the area of the Mill Valley Elementary School District.

Councilman Files For Re-Election

Nomination papers were filed today for Carl W. Gabrielson, incumbent Sausalito City Councilman, who has announced he will run in the April 14 election to retain his council seat. Stanley Cowen of 2 Toyon Lane, circulated the petition for Gabrielson.

Three others have taken out nomination papers in Sausalito.

No new nominating petitions were reported in other cities in Marin.

Corte Madera Council Appoints Town Clerk

Mrs. Betty S. Behel, senior clerk of the town of Corte Madera, last night was appointed town clerk and sworn into office.

She replaces Mrs. Nell Rugg, who resigned Jan. 31 to move to Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Behel of 74 Corte Madera Avenue, has been secretary to the manager of the Corte Madera branch of Crocker-Citizens Bank. She has indicated she will run for election to the town clerk post April 14. She is third town clerk within a year in Corte Madera.

The town council last night named Mrs. Virginia Carson, city account clerk, as deputy town clerk, without additional pay.

Corte Madera Town Council also:

1. Took under consideration a suggestion by the Marin Conservation League that the town help purchase 87 acres of tidelands at the northeast city limits to protect the waterfront.
2. Adopted a resolution abandoning Loyola Way.
3. Held over until Feb. 17 any action toward adopting a uniform animal control ordinance.
4. Held in abeyance a proposal to erect a two-foot-high redwood fence fronting Town Park along Tamalpais Drive. The park and recreation commission has said the fence would serve no worthwhile purpose.
5. Instructed the town manager to check out boundaries involved in a request for a special assessment district for a portion of upper Stetson Avenue. Eleven property owners filed a petition for a district to pave the dirt street, asking the town to bear 25 per cent of the cost. The town manager also was asked to determine what area percentage is represented by the petition signatures.
6. Accepted streets of Mariner Highlands Unit 3, located above the Granada school site.

Belvedere Wants Bay Model Kept

The Belvedere City Council last night voted to urge the Army Corps of Engineers and Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City), that the San Francisco Bay Model in Sausalito not be abandoned June 30, as scheduled.

The model should be kept, among other reasons, for study of what might happen through "helter skelter filling of the bay," council members declared.

The Belvedere City Council also:

1. Adopted a resolution setting the city election for April 14.
2. Discussed the new county animal control ordinance and agreed to wait until the county board of supervisors takes some action.
3. Authorized City Engineer Albert H. Siemer to make a study of the best utilization of gasoline tax funds for construction and improvement of streets and to set up a priority system.
4. Authorized payment of cost of 1961 sewer improvements over and above 1961 bonds out of general purpose funds.

Marinwood Rec Unit Asking Judo Classes

Marinwood park and recreation commissioners last night voted to ask directors of the Marinwood Community Services District to sponsor judo classes at the new community center.

The commission also approved purchase of a moving picture projector. Plans for the swimming pool to be built near the community center were reviewed.

Sausalito Meeting

The board of the Sausalito Citizens Council will meet Thursday night. It did not meet last night, as regularly scheduled, Carl W. Spring, corresponding secretary, said today.

Parks Group Wants City To Acquire Cemetery

The Novato Parks and Recreation commission last night recommended that the city council start action to acquire the old Novato cemetery for a public park.

It also voted to meet on Feb. 17 to determine whether residents of the surrounding area wanted the adjoining land on the north and south converted into a neighborhood park.

Both votes were 4 to 1, with Mrs. Helen Greving voting against the first motion and chairman Gordon Tandy voting against the second.

Robert Lagle, head of the city planning department, has estimated it would cost the city $8,500 to $10,000 per acre to acquire the adjacent land.

Woody Binford, past president of the Novato Rotary Club, offered the help of that club in working on the park. Roger Hillman, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce parks and recreation committee, offered the help of that organization in getting the park started.

The commission asked Edmund Mahany, parks and recreation director, to draw up a tree ordinance.

San Jose Classes To Move

Classes will be moved into the new six-classroom addition to San Jose Intermediate School late this week or the first of next week, Supt. Ralph Giovanniello informed the San Jose School District board last night.

Giovanniello also announced that a campaign for approval of a $275,000 bond issue and $1,184,000 state loan authorization, which will be up to voters March 3, will be launched next Monday with a meeting "for men only" at 8 p.m. at Lynwood School. A second campaign meeting—for women, too—will be held at 10 a.m., March 13, at the Loma Verde Community Baptist Church.

The board heard reports on curriculum from several staff members. Edward L. Hanchett reported a request from parents for science materials at the intermediate school.

Instructor John L. Musio said 49 parents are enrolled in a "mathematics for parents" course.

Alfred Rivasplata was named director of this year's summer school.

Driver's Neck Is Broken, Commute Traffic Snarled

Commute traffic was held up yesterday when two cars were involved in a rear-end accident 1,500 feet south of the Marin City underpass at 7:55 a.m., resulting in a broken neck for one driver.

A car driven by Richard William Warton, 33, of 55 Kensington Road, San Anselmo, hit the rear of one stopped for traffic in the southbound lane by Douglas Peter Fleury, 41, of 720 B Street, San Rafael.

Fleury was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken neck. His car was pushed 100 feet, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Belvedere writer Francois G. Leydet, 37, of 234 Bella Vista Avenue was treated for a cut thigh at Marin General Hospital after he was thrown out of his car on Highway 101 near the San Quentin Wye overcrossing at 11:30 p.m.

He was cited by the highway patrol for failure to pass safely on the left a southbound car being driven by Evelyn Josephine Tambarini, 39, of 38 Catalpa Avenue, Mill Valley.

The seat belts in Leydet's car were not in use, the highway patrol noted.

Lillie Mae Knott, 28, of Cole Drive, Marin City, was examined at Marin General Hospital and then booked in the county jail on a drunken driving charge after the car she was driving east on Tiburon Boulevard, at Trestle Glenn Drive, hit the dirt banks on both sides of the boulevard yesterday noon.

Earl Leslie Batten, 20, of San Francisco was treated at the same hospital for multiple cuts and a broken left wrist after a motorcycle ran over him on Shoreline Highway, a mile and one-half north of Horseshoe Hill, at midnight.

Batten, riding a motorcycle, passed another motorcycle rider, Herbert Howland Wolfe, 24, of San Francisco and was hit by an oncoming car being driven by Philip Ephraim Hallinger, 30, of San Carlos.

He was thrown off his cycle and run over by the motorcycle operated by Wolfe, according to the highway patrol. Wolfe was thrown off his motorcycle but suffered no injury.

ABAG Membership Voted In San Francisco

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors voted unanimously yesterday for San Francisco membership in the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

This makes all of the nine Bay counties except Solano members of the association, which is designed for regional cooperation. Most of the cities in Marin County are also members, along with more than 70 in other counties of the area.

School Bus Hits Novato Boy, 3,

A 3-year-old Novato boy received minor scratches when he darted in front of a school bus at 3:30 p.m. yesterday in front of 657 Olive Avenue, according to Novato police.

Thomas Allan Corriea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Corriea of 660 Olive Avenue, was released from Novato Hospital today after being held overnight for observation.

Driver of the Novato United School District bus was Antone Almeda Mello, 59, of Petaluma. The bus moved only two feet after the impact, police reported.

U.S. Court Gets Boundary Suit

Supervisorial redistricting in Marin County is still a live dragon.

Even though Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Superior Court approved the board of supervisors' stop-gap shift in boundaries last week, another court could force further steps.

Attorney John P. Rooney of Larkspur, representing the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, filed a suit in U.S. District Court in San Francisco soon after he filed the taxpayers' suit in Marin court last week.

Judge Sims ruled in the taxpayers' suit that the board's action on redistricting Friday should be upheld to "avoid chaotic conditions." But he urged that redistricting be given more study later.

Rooney's suit in the federal court named County Clerk George H. Gnoss, as defendant, and asked that he be restrained from holding an election until the boundaries of the five supervisorial districts are changed to equalize or more nearly equalize populations.

Rooney said yesterday that he has no intention of withdrawing the suit. "Any number of possibilities" might result from the suit, he said.

"We'll just let the court decide," he said.

Supervisors last week, acting to meet a court deadline, enlarged the Fourth (West Marin) District to include Stinson Beach and Bolinas, now in the Third (Southern Marin) District and San Geronimo Valley, now in the Fifth (North Marin) District. It increased the population percentage of the county total from 1.8 to 3.9 in the Fourth District. The action made no change in boundaries of the First and Second Districts.

BRUCE IS DRUBBED FOR SHUT SESSION

Fusselman Questions Administrator's Right To Closed Discussions On County Budget

Supervisor William D. Fusselman today raised the question of whether the county administrator had the right to close meetings with department heads from the press.

County Administrator Alan Bruce answered that he had closed a meeting with Public Works Director Donald R. Frost yesterday and would keep similar meetings closed "at this stage of the budget study."

Bruce said he was glad to see newspapers taking an interest in the formative stages of the budget. But, he contended, the first round of meetings consisted of "brainstorming" sessions, and presence of the press would merely inhibit department heads from speaking their minds.

Fusselman insisted he did not think Bruce had authority to close a meeting.

Supervisor Feter H. Behr said the administrator must be given some discretion in how he draws up a budget.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney was called into the board chambers and said the Ralph M. Brown Act did not cover administrative meetings of department heads.

Bruce said budget talks when requests for funds and decisions on programs are made would be open to the press.

Tam High Unit Against Kennedy Library Name

The Tamalpais High School District board does not think that an 80-vote margin or a 62 per cent turnout of Redwood High School student is clear enough indication of their wish to rename the school library in honor of John F. Kennedy.

At least that was the feeling of the majority of the board members who expressed opinions last night.

The request to rename the library came from student body President Laurence D. Herst. He cited a Jan. 9 election at which 62 per cent of the student body turned out to vote 591-511 in favor of renaming the library.

Board member Edmund J. Thomas Jr. said a more important structure in the district should be named in Kennedy's honor, but that buildings should be named in honor of local persons.

William B. Lewis felt the vote margin and per cent of turnout were not large enough to warrant renaming the library. James M. Stubblebine concurred with Lewis. Delman D. Smith was absent and John C. Siemens made no comment.

Principal Donald Kreps, arguing strongly for renaming the library, pointed out that school district elections rarely get a 62 per cent turnout.

(Slightly over 50 per cent of qualified electors in Tamalpais High School District cast ballots in 1961 when Lewis was elected to the board. The turnout was smaller when Stubblebine was elected in 1959.)

The board agreed that if the students feel strongly enough about renaming the library, they will show up at the Feb. 17 meeting of the board.

The Tamalpais Union High School District board also:

1. Accepted resignations of Tannette Jaloff, English teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School who has been in the district for 35 years, and Anne Scott, physical education teacher at Drake for two years.

2. Hired Barry Lutender as a mathematics teacher for Redwood High School.

3. Authorized hiring architect Ralph B. Priestley to design storage facilities at the corporation yard.

4. Heard a report that teachers polled by the Tamalpais District Teachers Assn. favor the plan for unification of the whole district by six-to-one.

5. Htard Supt. Chester G. Carlisle report that of the three-million-dollar bond issue voted in 1961, $2,372,118 has been spent, exclusive of site purchases.

Baker Got 'Cut' In Meat Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert G. (Bobby) Baker collected a cut from both buyer and seller in a deal he promoted involving import of meat from Haiti, Senate investigators disclosed today.

This and more details of the business dealings of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, were disclosed in sworn testimony to the Senate rules committee, given last week and released today.

Thomas D. Webb Jr., local representative of the wealthy Texas Murchison interests, testified that Baker made about $4,000 on the meat deal in 1962 and another $1,200 in 1963.

Francis E. Law, Webb's partner as a manufacturers' representative, testified that Baker is behind in splitting the profits of the complex meat deal with the Webb and Law partnership.

Too Piercing, Man! Please Modulate

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Downtown merchants complained recently that a police sound truck which directs motorists to parking places was operated by a man with a "growling" voice.

The Retail Trade Bureau of the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce asked whether "someone with a more delicate voice" could operate the sound system.

War Against Delinquency Is Declared

A community wide effort to study and combat juvenile delinquency will be started at a meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 25, according to Richard Nave, president.

This meeting was called by Nave as a result of a panel discussion today at the breakfast meeting of the Chamber at Cloud Five restaurant.

Chief of Police Robert Di Grazia, a member of the panel, said the problem with juveniles begins in the home.

"Parents are too soft with their children," he said.

Di Grazia also said, Novato should have a full time juvenile officer. He showed a collection of weapons taken from the juveniles.

Nicholar Suntzeff, executive director of the Family Service Agency, said the case load on his agency is so heavy it has refused all new cases since Dec. 1.

Nave said committees to work on the problem would be named at the Feb. 25 meeting.

DANCE

Wolfson termed the dance report of Corte Madera Police Officer Charles Rester "one of the most biased, prejudiced reports" he had ever read. He said the patrolman made Margoliash appear to "be a young punk," instead of a responsible dance promoter.

He said his client was willing to hire two uniformed policemen to supplement law enforcing at the proposed dance.

Councilmen Charles F. Pendleton and Norman R. Barnett both defended Rester and his action in calling for help to subdue the throng. Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said he deplored any teen-age recreation function that required a police "cordon."

"It's not very charming to dance around a police officer," he said.

Councilmen agreed the action does not end teen-aged dancing, and promised new programs would be considered.

3 Facing Bogus Check Charges Are Arrested

Three persons facing bogus check charges in separate cases and totaling a near $1,000 have been arrested elsewhere on felony warrants for the San Rafael Police Department.

Inspector Richard Camper said they are Norma A. Graham, 48, who has several San Rafael addresses; Fred Ubener, 48, of Walnut Creek, and Robert Gordon Gibson, 46, a Sacramento carpenter.

Miss Graham was arrested by the Orange County sheriff's office Sunday on a warrant alleging worthless checks totaling $175 in San Rafael last October and November.

Ubener was arrested, also Sunday, by Walnut Creek police on San Rafael charges of passing $335 in worthless checks.

Gibson is being held by Santa Clara County sheriff's office in connection with an armed robbery there. He was arrested Jan. 31, police said. He is charged in San Rafael with giving a worthless $400 check on May 21, 1963, for a car later found abandoned in Watsonville.

Housing Authority Aide Will Be Hired

Marin Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency commissioners yesterday authorized hiring an assistant director but declined to name the man selected until his employer can be notified.

The announcement may be expected within a few days, said Donald O. Stutsman, executive director since the dismissal of Bert Klahn Jan. 6. The assistant will receive $10,944 per year. This compares with a salary of $10,000 Stutsman received on taking the assistant's job.

REY

$75 as building inspector. "The rest of the hats, I wear free," he said today. Salary for city treasurer is $100 per month.

Rey suggested city clerk and treasurer be made appointive instead of elective.

The council, agreeing unanimously, voted to place on the April ballot the question: Shall the offices of city clerk and city treasurer be appointive?

Rey said: "I will be bound to miss the challenge of the job, but have long looked forward to the time when we might be able to enpjoy pleasures that require leisure time.

"During my term of office, I have endeavored at all times to administer the affairs of the city as though they were my own private business."

Rey is a lifelong resident of Belvedere. His family purchased land in the 1880s when the old Belvedere Land Co. opened the island for summer estates. Until recent years he has lived in a large family home high on the island, but now lives in a smaller place on the lagoon.

In his letter of resignation, Rey pointed out how the town has changed in recent years. The population has gone from 880 in 1950 to 2,350 in 1962. The expense budget for the fiscal year 1953-54 was $59,150, as compared with $218,412 for 1963-64.

Assessed value during the same period increased from $2,656,970 to $7,614,906. The city's bonded debt grew from $155,000 to $425,000.

The council puzzled over where to find a successor.

Mayor Robert P. Watkins wondered, "What is the proper procedure for enlisting somebody who knows something about this city—and not just about Oshkosh?"

LAW

which are causing a "nuisance."

Mel L. Morse of the Marin county humane society, which will be given the job of enforcing the ordinance, said as far as he was concerned, enforcement procedures would be the same in either case.

County administrator Alan Bruce contended that a change would encourage cities to make their own changes in the ordinance when they passed it, thus defeating hopes for a uniform ordinance throughout the county.

The distinction between the leash and nuisance provisions is merely a matter of semantics, Bruce contended.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker moved adoption of the ordinance, and it passed 4-1, with Fusselman opposed.

McCarthy Seeks Lower Span Toll

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) introduced two more resolutions in the Senate yesterday, asking for studies on the possibility of lowering the bridge toll on Richmond-San Rafael Bridge and using the bridge for rapid transit.

One resolution asks the California Toll Bridge Authority to re-evaluate the financial condition of the Richmond span with an eye toward possible reduction of the present 75-cent toll.

The other asks for the state Department of Public Works to see if rapid transit is feasible on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Her son is her only survivor.

Funeral will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

JOSEPH ISAKOWSKI

Joseph Isakowski, 96, the oldest prisoner in the state prison system, is remembered at San Quentin Prison for his hard work as a sweeper and his imagination.

Isakowski, convicted of murder, died at the California Prison Medical Facility at Vacaville Thursday after 45 years in prisons, 30 of them at San Quentin Prison.

Prison Capt. Carl Hocker said Isakowski's job while at the prison was to sweep the upper exercise yard.

"You'd always see him with a broom and long-handled dustpan," Captain Hocker said.

One of the stories that Isakowski used to tell involved buried treasure. From the exercise yard he could see the hilltop home of then Capt. C. L. Doose.

Isakowski used to claim that Captain Doose had taken a treasure from him and buried it in his yard. The prisoner often said he would go there some day and dig it up.

But Isakowski maintained a perfect prison record. He was transferred from San Quentin in 1950 to Terminal Island in Los Angeles. He was sent to Vacaville in 1959.

He was a native of Poland and served in both the German and United States armies. He had spent some time prospecting in Alaska.

He was convicted of murdering a fellow prospector in a Yreka gold camp in 1919. He never won parole, apparently because of failing health and lack of friends "outside" to take care of him.

More Tenants May Move Into New Kaehler-Farrar Building This Week

First occupant Benjamin R. Ostlind of the Kaehler-Farrar Building at Fourth and C Streets, San Rafael, may be followed by others in the upstairs offices by the end of the week.

Scheduled to go on the fourth floor as soon as their quarters are ready are Kaehler-Farrar, Inc., with about 5,000 square feet of office space. Adjoining them will be Jean N. Bell, former Kaehler - Farrar sales manager, now operating his own business as Bell Associates. He will still sell Kaehler-Farrar properties.

On the same floor will be Sequoia Financial Corp., now at 20 H Street, San Rafael, headed by Al Goodman. Third floor will have the Federal Bureau of Investigation offices, but occupancy isn't expected until about the first of March. The penthouse is to be occupied by attorneys Pendergrass and McKenney, but Robert Pendergrass says he has no idea when they will move in.

Les Girls Boutique, now at 1408 Fourth Street, will move to the ground floor of the new building (on the Fourth Street side)—possibly by the middle of the month. There's one more space uncommitted in here. Benjamin Ostlind's new firm, Redwood Realtors, takes in the entire C Street side of the ground floor from lobby to the ramp leading to the downstairs parking area.

That still leaves the second and fifth floors to be heard from. There's talk of one large firm occupying the entire second, and a restaurant on the fifth, but at this writing leases had not been confirmed.

NO BUYERS' NAMES have been mentioned, but we understand that 23 lots have already been sold by the Draper Companies in the Northgate Industrial park, which is still in the development stage. The subdivision, north and east of Fairchild Semiconductor's diode plant on Highway 101, comprises 130 acres divided into 84 parcels.

JAMES L. KIRSCHBAUM of San Rafael has been elected president of the Northern California chapter of Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriters. He is sales manager and assistant to the departmental manager of the Pacific department of Firemen's Fund Insurance Co., having served with the firm continuously since 1949.

W. JAMES WALSH of Corte Madera has joined the passenger division of Matson Navigation Co. as district sales representative for the Pacific Northwest. Working out of the San Francisco office, he will cover Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, British Columbia and Alberta, Canada. Walsh formerly served as passenger sales representative for Swissair in San Francisco, and before that with the American Air Lines passenger services in New York City.

CLARENCE E. MURPHY, head of the California credit union movement, has been named to head a global system to extend this form of economic self-help to peoples of other countries. His new assignment, beginning March 1, will be in Washington, D. C., to administer credit union activities into South and Central America, the Near East and Far East.

YOU CAN'T GET an income tax deduction for damage caused by termites—unless you can starve the critters, then persuade them to wolf down your premises in one quick meal.

So says the Internal Revenue Service—or words more or less to that effect. Tired of being stuck for termite losses as "sudden damage," the IRS has ruled that they "are not the result of an identifiable event of a sudden, unusual or unexpected nature."

But if you have a fast-eating breed that can turn the trick in say a week's time, you may be able to get away with it. Proving it in court, of course.

Trading Active But Market Closes Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed irregularly lower today. Trading was moderately active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.2 million shares compared with 4.16 million yesterday.

Losses of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

Utilities, steels, oils and some of the nonferrous metals and chemicals resisted the decline. The trend was lower among cigarette stocks, airlines, farm implements, motors, electronics and building materials.

Some of the aluminums also rose, Alcoa and Aluminium Ltd. adding about a point each.

Xerox, sold heavily, touched a new low for the year as it lost more than 2 points and became a strong candidate as the most active stock.

Polaroid fell half a dozen points, IBM about 3, Control Data around 2.

Mattel rose more than 2. Lykes Steamship was up a point. American Crystal Sugar fell more than 2.

Curtis Publishing gained a fraction. The company settled a libel suit, which originally had a verdict of 3.06 million dollars—later scaled down to $460,000—for $300,000.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Looks Like End For Library

The county schools library can be expected to dry up and disappear, county Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis told the county board of education last night.

The board approved a $600 appropriation for a study of the situation.

Last year, Hollis noted, the Novato and San Jose districts pulled out of the service, setting up their own district libraries. "Four large districts are waiting to go out," he added.

Hollis said the money would be used to pay Ed Wight, professor of librarianship at University of California, to study how the library could be liquidated without harming the smaller school districts, which have no libraries of their own.

Two Deputies To Be Questioned

Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos will question two deputies tomorrow to decide whether to fire or suspend them.

The deputies, William McKillop, 38, and George Johnsen, 33, have been under investigation for what the sheriff said were unrelated incidents "unbecoming an officer." They will have a chance to explain their actions, the sheriff said, before he will disclose the charges.

McKillop has been with the department for five years, and Johnsen for three.

If they are fired, Mountanos said, they may appeal to the county personnel commission and board of supervisors.

Major Salary Revision For Teachers Proposed

A major revision of salaries paid teachers employed by the county schools office and a plan to grant sabbatical leaves were proposed last night to the Marin County Board of Education.

The board tentatively approved the sabbatical program, saying that two persons should be granted one-year leaves for study, with at least part pay, starting in the 1965-66 school year. A committee will study the problem of budgeting.

A 5 per cent increase in salaries generally was approved, but the move was made generally for accounting purposes in bargaining with state officials about the amount of money to be granted to the Marin County schools office for the next fiscal year.

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis said that if the increase were not budgeted, some state allocation would be lost.

Board member Robert G. Randolph made a more sweeping proposal for salary adjustments. He proposed holding the line on starting salaries but increasing those at the higher scales by as much as 10 per cent.

He urged that the present requirements for a master's degree before advancing beyond a certain pay scale be abandoned. Instead, he said, a system of pay raises based mainly on the number of units of post-graduate work completed by the teachers should be used.

At request of Hollis, however, Randolph withdrew his motion to allow time for study of the plan.

The board approved an increase in the pay of teachers of the night school at San Quentin prison from $5.50 an hour to $6.

Loma Verde Annex Study Authorized

A study of annexation of Loma Verde to the City of Novato was authorized by the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn. last night.

Association members, meeting in Loma Verde School named Abe N. Granish, former association president, to check on procedures necessary for annexation.

Ivan W. Doerksen was asked to check with the county tax collector on increase or decrease of taxes if Loma Verde should annex. Both are to report back to the next meeting of the association on March 2.

John Frederick was elected president of the association for a one-year term. Gilbert H. Hall, vice president; Mrs. James Swenson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Park, recording secretary, and Mrs. John Frederick, treasurer. The new officers will be installed at the March 2 meeting.

Duane Moeller, assistant superintendent of San Jose School District, spoke in favor of a $275,000 bond issue and $1,184,000 state loan authorization to be placed before voters on March 3.

San Rafael Retarded School Hit

The school for trainable mentally retarded at 1 Laurel Place, San Rafael, should be abandoned, the county board of education decided last night.

Board member Patrick W. Pollock, who has headed a committee studying the mentally retarded training program, said the present three schools in the county will have to be increased by four. He recommended keeping present locations in homes in Santa Venetia and Mill Valley, and finding two more homes near them. This, he said, would allow division of students within the schools according to age and simplify the transportation problem.

Major dissatisfaction with the San Rafael school is its lack of play area, Pollock said, as it is on a narrow street and has virtually no yard.

Another study was also ordered on finding a new location for classes for handicapped and deaf students at the E Street School in San Rafael, scheduled to be torn down for a street construction project.

Bombs Hit U.S. Embassy

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Two bombs exploded at the United States embassy today, causing considerable damage. Tension between Greek and Turkish Cypriots began rising to the flash point, and new violence was feared.

what's your community worth?

The day may come when you'll want to sell your home. That's when you'll find yourself selling your community in an effort to get the best price for your home. ☐ This is an interesting experience because you suddenly realize that you have been blind to the gradual changes that have taken place through the years. These changes may or may not be for the better. And they can make the difference of several thousand dollars cash in your pocket! ☐ If the area around your home is improving, it's probably being accomplished with money raised through sale of municipal bonds—bonds for better fire-fighting equipment, schools, city government buildings, water and sewage facilities, parks and streets, etc. ☐ Good thing about municipal bonds is they protect you in two important ways: Bonds spread the cost over a long period of time to keep taxes at a reasonable level. And interest rates on your city's bonds are decided by competitive bidding to get the lowest rate under prevailing bond market conditions. ☐ The Bank of America and its associated dealers bid on virtually all municipal bonds issued in the State. We believe in Californians and California communities. And we're as eager as you are to see the value of your biggest single investment—your home—increase! ☐ You can make sure your property values do increase by taking an active personal interest in your local government. Stopping Dances May Be Giving In To Lawlessness

The problem of the teen-age dances at Corte Madera Recreation Center is sticky indeed.

We hear it said that teen-agers would be less likely to become delinquency statistics if they had more good, clean recreational activities provided for them.

So a fellow starts a series of dances; he's a private enterpriser who gets no help from the taxpayer's pocketbook. He even pays the freight to hire a couple of off-duty law enforcement officers to see that order is maintained.

As we understand them, his rules for conducting the dances follow pretty much the same pattern as those observed in high school dances hereabout.

Why then do they have trouble at Corte Madera while the non-profit dances at Mill Valley and Sausalito seem to operate largely without incident?

Part of the difficulty lies in that one is a public dance with all comers welcome while the others are "club" dances with an implication at least of some control over who is admitted.

But when you get to the bottom of it, the explosive nucleus of trouble lies in the area of race relations.

If Negro boys come to a dance without Negro girls to dance with, the situation gets touchy. Teen-age youths are mostly more open-minded on race matters than their elders; many Caucasian girls don't object to dancing with Negro boys. But once in awhile some Caucasian girl's white boyfriend may object —and the fat's in the fire.

But in a well ordered dance hall such as operates in Corte Madera, this situation poses no great problem.

The problem seems to stem, we are told, from a more sinister force.

From Vallejo or from Richmond occasionally come prowling gangs of toughs (who happen to be Negroes). It is said they wait outside the dance hall at closing time for the purpose of starting a row, presumably to advance the cause of integration by looking for evidence of segregation which they can attack with some violence.

Why not, we wonder, just turn out a double, or triple or quadruple police guard about that time and keep them present during the 20 minutes or half hour that it takes for the dance crowd to come out and disperse?

It isn't easy for a smaller town to turn out so many men for such a short period of duty at such a late hour on a weekend night, we are told.

But if we permit the dances to be closed down, are we not surrendering to the forces of disorder and lawlessness?

It seems clear that the solution is to provide sufficient police power to keep order and stamp out misbehavior instead of penalizing well-behaved youngsters by cancelling their dances.

To provide adequate police power may cost extra money on a few occasions until the issue is decided. But we can't think of a more justifiable "extra hire" expense than providing sufficient police to prevent violence and re-establish order.

LEARN THE MEANING OF SACRIFICE

"Successful marriage is a school of sacrifice" was the wise advice a judge gave to an audience of 1500 men in Los Angeles, Calif.

With all frankness he asked them if "love," as they lived it, meant sacrifice.

"If it doesn't," he warned, "then it generally means that one gets little out of marriage because that's exactly what one puts into it."

Denying one's own whim and inclinations does not come easy, even for a noble cause. But experience shows it is more than worth the effort.

In practice, sacrifice may mean spending less time on legitimate personal recreations and more on helping one's children with their problems or their games.

Or, it may mean taking them out on occasion to give a hard-pressed mother a brief respite from domestic chores.

Any effort that puts family first and self last is bound to bring the Lord's blessing on one and all.

"You shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy." John 16:20)

Lead me to seek what I can do for others, O Lord, not what I can get from them.

Row Over Squaw Valley Expenses Casts Shadow On 1966 Fair Plans

By CAPITOL NEWS SERVICE

SACRAMENTO—The brand new executive committee for a new 33.7 million-dollar state fair for 1966 held its organizational meeting in the capitol last week with a hangover from the Squaw Valley development expenditures casting a shadow over the proceedings.

The 1963 legislature authorized the creation of the new committee, composed of top level appointive and elective state officials. The committee is expected to contract with a non-profit corporation for operation of the new fair.

Some members of the executive committee expressed the hope that members would show "a sense of urgency" in making plans for the new fair.

GOV. EDMUND G. BROWN addressed the assemblage, calling the occasion the "high point in my stewardship of this state." He said the concept of fairs had changed from horse and buggy days.

As for business, the committee appointed Stanley Fowler, deputy director of the department of General Services, as executive officer; retained Economic Research Associates as the consultant to the committee for new fair design and concept, and adopted budgets totaling $898,000.

BECAUSE OF THE LONG delay, Robert L. Harkness, director of the Department of General Services which will provide staff for the committee, stressed the matter of urgency for the committee.

H. C. (Pat) Maginn, state fair director from San Francisco and member of the executive committee, agreed.

The damper on urgency then was applied by Sen. Samuel R. Geddes, (D-Napa), advisory member of the committee.

"I'm watching this show of haste here and I'm concerned," Geddes said. "I've seen other things pushed through—I saw Squaw Valley pushed through and tried to stop it but couldn't. I think we need to move slow enough to make sure we have controls and that it's legal."

100% Housing Financing Available

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Just a note to express appreciation for the "Realty Board Challenged For Seniors" story. I am very hopeful that some small spark may have been ignited at yesterday's meeting (Jan. 28), and that the Board will consider the challenge carefully. If they do, then there is good reason to hope that they also will take action. . . .

One point for your information, about this horribly complicated field of sponsored housing under the housing act. My speech apparently was misleading. The challenge you reported on consisted only of the challenge to sponsor housing, one requisite being the formation of a non-profit corporation which could be qualified to receive a 100 per cent loan from the Federal Government, for 50 years, at low interest. I am afraid the wording of my speech suggested that the Board go into the lending field at low interest. . . .

Forman's Report Will Save Time In Future

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In view of your recent editorial on our 1963 Marin County Grand Jury, and columnist Al Bock's somewhat deprecating remarks, may I comment?

The Jury was particularly cautioned against witch-hunts — snooping and rummaging for trouble. If any citizen, including Mr. Bock, felt that investigation in any department was needed, he had only to address the Jury, in writing and over his signature. His concern would have received the same firm, prompt, and courteous attention that every submittal received during the year.

As for the "Foreman's Report" consuming some seven pages of the Jury's Annual Report, consider that a newly-seated Grand Jury necessarily does a certain amount of fumbling in taking up its duties, its responsibilities, and learning its limitations. This careful "Foreman's Report," this guide, will save future juries much valuable time.

Please note that the Grand Jury was not "just negative," but ready with praise wherever it found a job well done.

Well you might call the Kremlin or Pek Ping, but if that's too far, how about the United Nations?

Actually, Sonja, I think that your question is preconceived. And that all you wanted to do is slander in one way or another the Society.

Code Restrictions Not Obligatory Here

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I note in a recent news story that there is an attempt being made to make the county electrical code more restrictive, the changes being referred to as "obligatory" on account of the new state housing law.

There is no such thing as any restrictive item in the housing law being "obligatory" on a local jurisdiction. In the first place, the state law supersedes a local ordinance only if the ordinance itself is materially less restrictive than the state law. Only a court decision can determine whether this should be taken as a whole or item by item, and until such a decision is made, there is no reason why a local jurisdiction should change its ordinance. Furthermore, the state law provides that a local board of appeals may decide whether a particular item of the state law should govern in the local jurisdiction, and if the local board of appeals decides to, it can eliminate specific items of the housing law from applying locally.

The current county building ordinance was written and submitted to the supervisors by the board of appeals, and I contend that accordingly, the entire ordinance takes precedence. Building costs are too high now, and restrictive ordinances increasing costs should not be proposed on the ground of being "obligatory" when that is not the case.

What Does Youth Know About Living

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To the young Victors of today belong the old victims. I refer to a letter published by the I-J, Jan. 22 and sent in by Douglas E. Victor. As a father, breadwinner and home owner, I wish to say that our well-educated new voter considers, before he votes on issues costing immense sums of money, how much of it he is going to pungle up.

What do you know, Victor, about the tremendous responsibilities involved in maintaining a home and raising a family? What do you know about the high taxes on our homes, high rent as a result of this, and all the heartbreak that goes with illness? All the unexpected things that come up; with every one of them costing above and beyond what we earn . . .

Any kid who has as little regard for his elders as you so plainly show in your letter should go back to school. A special school. One where you would learn manners and get wised up in the art of appreciating what we hard-working people have done for our children and Marin's children for years and years. Now get this special school on the ballot and we'll all vote for it. I wish you a triumphant success. You need it.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

"My husband," announced an anguished lady to a psychiatrist, "must be just about the saddest sack you've ever had in this office. The poor schmo is convinced he's a parking meter." "Dear, dear," clucked the psychiatrist, "but why doesn't he speak up for himself? Can't he talk? "How can he," snapped the lady, "with all those nickels and dimes in his mouth?"

Sir Cedric Hardwicke tells of an evening in Dublin's famous Abbey Theater where an Irish playwright was trying to create the lighting effect for a glorious sunset. For hours he had the electricians trying all kinds of color slides and combinations. Suddenly he saw exactly what he wanted. "That's it," he cried. "Wonderful! Hold it, hold it!" "We can't hold it, sir," answered the chief electrian mournfully, "The bloody theater's on fire!"

When a new revue opened in London, a critic for the Evening Standard confined comment to a single sentence. "Last night's play simply didn't come off," he stated grimly, "but it will."

Big Nations Put On Santa Claus Faces As Smaller Nations Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this time in history, when big powers would rather look like Santa Claus than Machiavelli, they show both modesty and reluctance about claiming credit for revolutions, mutinies, coups and riots.

AT THE SAME time, even if big power No. 1 didn't have a hand in an overthrow in some smaller nation, this doesn't discourage big power No. 2 from blaming No. 1 anyway.

When a military junta last November sacked the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem in South Viet Nam, this country officially disclaimed any involvement although it was irked by Diem's slow war on communism.

There wasn't much doubt, though, that the United States had made the climate for the coup possible by its call for reform in Viet Nam. The Soviet Union promptly accused this country of engineering the coup.

A FEW WEEKS ago, when Panamanians rioted against American occupants of the Canal Zone, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), said it was plain the violence was substantially promoted by agents trained in Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The Soviets said the whole thing was the result of "American colonialism" and the Panamanians accused the United States of aggression.

More recently Africans revolted against Arab rule in Zanzibar, and in Tanganyika, Uganda and Kenya native troops mutinied. Racism and lack of discipline could have been the basic motives.

BUT THIS HAPPENED as Red China's Premier Chou En-lai was traveling across Africa, trying to spread some influence, and Castro-trained agents were reported at the scene of trouble.

The big nations jockeying for power, the West could not help wondering what role communism had played in all this.

Then this week the junta that threw out Viet Nam's President Diem was given the heave-ho by a new Veitnamese strong man, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

AFTER KHANH took over, the United States did what it did after the November coup: It disclaimed any involvement.

The Soviets couldn't miss an opportunity like this and they did what they did after the November coup: They charged the United States was up to its neck in the coup.

Khanh had something to say about his motives, and what he said will create some brand new argument.

He indicated two reasons for seizing power: That the junta hadn't been fighting communism hard enough and he wanted to get rid of "traitors who advocate neutralism."

KHANH ALSO has been described in reports from Viet Nam as a man sorely peeved at the junta for not promoting him after the November coup.

A break between Saigon and France will hardly be bad news for the United States, which was sorely peeved at French President Charles de Gaulle for sticking his long Gallic nose into the Vietnamese problem.

Months ago De Gaulle proposed an end to the war in Viet Nam by neutralizing Communist North Viet Nam and U. S.-backed South Viet Nam. If it ever happened, it would be a neat way for de Gaulle to try to re-establish French influence in Viet Nam, where the French armies lost out in 1954.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

40 Red Agitators Left Panama After Rioting

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Some two-score Communist snipers and agitators, in the forefront of the destructive rioting and slaying of four U. S. soldiers in Panama, have been quietly allowed to leave that country.

They include eight professional Red killers who were seized and jailed by Panama National Guardsmen during the costly violence.

The Communist guerillas—Panamanians, Cubans, Mexicans and other Latins, some of them veterans of the recent Red terrorist operations in Venezuela—were flown to Mexico. From there, a number have gone to Cuba.

DIRECTLY INVOLVED in this secret exodus are two top Panamanian officials— Education Minister Solis Palma and Eloy Benedetti, legal adviser to the Foreign Minister.

A detailed intelligence report charges that the two leftist Panamanian officials not only cleared the way for the surreptitious departure of the trained Red guerrillas and snipers, but arranged for their coming to Panama and were in constant touch with them during the murderous demonstrations.

Benedetti particularly is credited with being in close contact with the imported Communist goons. He was especially active in getting those jailed released.

These sensational disclosures are being withheld from the U. S. public at the insistence of the State Department — on the ground that their publication might further complicate the tortuous and uncertain deliberations with the leftist-tinged regime of President Roberto Chiari.

Intelligence and military authorities vigorously dispute this view. They are urging President Lyndon B. Johnson to make these facts known to prepare the American people for a possible Communist take-over in Panama.

It is contended there is grave danger of that.

Chiari's government is said to be so extensively infiltrated with Reds and fellow travelers that in order to stay in office, he will have to submit to the extremist demands of Palma and Benedetti.

It is asserted the two leftist leaders are claiming that only direct U. S. armed intervention can block Communist seizure of Panama.

COMMUNIST FORCES in Panama are operating both underground and in the open.

The underground is financed and supplied chiefly by Cuba via Mexico. The visible apparatus holds key places in government and the university and controls the leftist wing of the Socialist Party, with more than 10,000 members.

Avowed aim of all the leftwing elements is to create the utmost dissension with the U. S. over the Canal and the Panama Zone issues.

The Departments of Education and Agriculture are heavily Communist infiltrated, as are the schools of law, journalism and education of the University of Panama. The university is the headquarters of the Communist underground, and middle-aged "permanent students," actually paid Red agitators, hold key places on the campus.

Not All Novato Seen From Highway; It Sprawls And Is Partly Disjointed

HOW BIG is Novato?

We are not talking only about the number of people in it, but the area.

Novato is a big city in area. As one drives through the city on Highway 101, he sees only a very small percentage of the city. It extends from the south limits of Hamilton Air Force Base to the Petaluma River and west almost to Stafford Dam.

This sprawling community was incorporated out of several. There was the original community of Novato. When it was incorporated, it took in much of the old community of Ignacio, part of Loma Verde, all of Rafael Village, Marin Golf and County Club Estates, and Hamilton Air Force Base. That base alone is a small city or community of itself.

The incorporated city is just four years old.

HOWEVER, IN those four years, very little has been done to weld the various ties more than some from other parts of the city.

Even the city government does not act as though part of this area were inside the city. One successful candidate for the city council did not campaign in Rafael Village because he did not realize that it was inside the city.

The city parks and recreation department has a winter recreation program going in cooperation with the Novato Unified School District schools but it has ignored the schools in the southern part of the city, run by the San Jose Elementary School District.

In checking the past elections for the city council, there have not been any candidates from this southern part of the city.

The area left in Ignacio is insignificant. It consists of a few businesses, but as soon as one leaves these, he is back in Novato. City administrator J. Julien Baget says he is one of the few city administrators who serves two mayors—M. E. Babe Silva of Novato and Frank Galli of Ignacio.

Loma Verde is surrounded by Novato and part of it lies within the city limits of Novato.

RAFAEL VILLAGE and Hamilton Air Force Base were taken into the city, but will always be hard to assimilate because of the constantly changing personnel of these areas. However, these people enter into community activi- councilmen so far representing this segment of the city.

WELDING ALL the segments of the area into one city is too big a job for anyone to accomplish by himself. The city council can go only so far. It should see to it that as much effort is expended in the southern part of the area as in the main section of the city. The council made one small move last week to see if it could help the two school district boards get together to work for unification into one district.

The chamber of commerce has done the most in trying to get the entire community working together. It calls itself the "Greater Novato Chamber of Commerce"—not limiting itself to businesses within the city. In fact, this year's president does not even live in the city.

Other community organizations could do well to follow suit and try to extend their membership and interests to include the whole city.

A-BAG Interest In Bay Model Explained

Editor, Independent-Journal:

From your editorial of Jan. 25, criticizing the Association of Bay Area Governments and other organizations for urging the continuation of the San Francisco Bay Model, I believe that your information was incomplete. Our position was to urge continuation of the model for a two-year period in order to determine its value in studying the various proposals for bay fill which must be considered in the ultimate planning of bay development.

We are reliably advised that no system or method other than the model itself can adequately develop answers to problems of filling in the bay. Therefore, we believe that it would be a serious waste of the taxpayers' money to discard the model before such answers are available. In our opinion, a two-year period of continued operation is essential to determining the model's ultimate usefulness. . . .

Yanks Should Have Been Freed First

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . Concerning the Cuban invasion: among Castro's prisoners were eleven American men who had laid down their lives to help the Cuban people and also to benefit our own country. These men were ill and very thin and were receiving no help nor care, yet they were left to rot several months longer in their miserable prison. President Kennedy's interest in delivering the Cubans first was not only downright heartlessness and disloyalty, but stupidity. Castro was more interested in our drugs and supplies than in holding on to his prisoners or in feeding them and the freedom of our American men should have been demanded before even raising a finger in behalf of the unAmericans.

When the Cuban people left their country and turned over their possessions to the Communists, they could not have done worse. Evil wants nothing better than to rid itself of opposition or interference, and the Cubans should have stood their ground, and made Castro uncomfortable. God would have rewarded their courage and loyalty. . . .

And in regard to the Cuban crisis: when the nuclear scientists discovered the secret missile bases and Castro's vile intentions, that was our main victory. After the Communists secret plot was laid bare Khrushchev had no other choice but to retreat. He knew that if he did not withdraw, Cuba would be annihilated.

That victory was completely independent of President Kennedy. Any person in charge would have handled the matter in the same way, for there was no other way to handle it.

I had prayed and stood my ground firmly, and then I received the assurance that God would prevent any attack on either side. I was completely at peace. President Kennedy was only too anxious to drag us into a war, and it was Robert K. who kept halting his hand and telling him to "wait, wait."

Water District To Retain Land Control

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re your recent editorial "Let's Go Slow In Turning Over Watershed To State"; One grand, continuous ocean-fronting green and golden park from the Golden Gate to Pt. Reyes is a "concept that captures the imagination," you declare. True. Everyone concerned with keeping our County uniquely beautiful will agree. But much of your editorial requires other comment, for it dashes cold water into the face of a bold and laudable plan, without justification.

Back on Sept. 12 you carried at length the splendid news that the Water District would lease our magnificent watershed lands to State Division of Beaches and Parks; that Beaches and Parks would develop hiking trails, camping, fishing and non-motor boat facilities; and obviously, MMWD would retain control of the lands for watershed uses. "Leasing" is the key word. Neither sale nor full control is involved. Therefore, there is no basis whatsoever for your editorial statement "But when it comes to turning over Marin Municipal Water District lands to the State, let's take a long, close look." Surely, you don't expect the Water District Board will fail to safeguard our water supply? Its competence and good judgment are obvious. Water has been plentiful and reasonable in cost. Though pressured over the years with demands of "developers" such as (1) Build a tramway to the summit of Mt. Tam; (2) Sell off choice portions such as Deer Park; (3) Cut down the biggest and best trees, they have wisely resisted these demands.

This prospective transfer to the state of recreational development administration will eliminate similar greedy pressures to exploit for private gain, as well as much of the present maintenance expense of MMWD. Appropriate agreements are being worked out: MMWD will retain control over the watershed; the terrible shortage of state park camping and other facilities in Marin will be alleviated. In this joint MMWD-Beaches and Parks venture, both organizations have the support and gratitude of all thinking people. We salute them both and wish them Godspeed.

IT'S HISTORIC — Building slated for destruction

Mill Valleyans Speak Mind At Forum

Problems of an overflowing septic tank, abondoning of a sewer line and alleged renting of a single family house as a duplex were brought up in the Mill Valley City Council's first citizen forum last night.

When the 30-minute question and answer period had ended, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks commented: "Maybe a half and hour will turn out to be too short. At any rate, we'll be here at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 17." (The council meetings start at 8 p.m.)

Coleman H. Fitzgerald of 439 West Blithedale Avenue complained about his neighbor's septic tank overflowing on his property and also about an alleged illegal apartment nearby. Fitzgerald said two families are living in what is supposedly a single family dwelling.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said the dwelling has been investigated and it was found the owners have a friend living with them and that it is a separate apartment.

Fitzgerald was assured the septic tank problem will be investigated.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Ryan of 58 Corte Madera Avenue asked why a good portion of the old sewer line on Corte Madera Avenue had to be abandoned. City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said a small section was all right but 90 per cent was abondoned because of its poor condition.

Drainage Assessment District Is Gaining

It is believed that enough signatures have been obtained to form a drainage assessment district in the lowlands of Tiburon, according to Robert Sterling, member of the Tiburon Sanitary District board.

No petition bearing the signature of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. has been delivered to the sanitary board as yet, however, the railroad is expected to join the drainage district, as is the Tiburon Peninsula Club, Sterling said.

Memo To The Mayor: You've Got Picture

Memo to Mayor John F. McInnis:

Per your instructions at last night's San Rafael City Council meeting, an Independent-Journal photographer today took pictures of the old city-owned building abutting the Independent-Journal Building on Fifth Avenue.

Copies of the pictures—one of which appears above—will be given the Marin County Historical Society.

You said you wanted it made a condition of transfer of the rear portion of the city hall lot to Independent-Journal ownership that these pictures be taken and preserved, since the building is a historic one. It housed, among other things in its long history, the first office of Marin Municipal Water District. (There was also, though you didn't mention it, a dance studio there before the city acquired it for use by public works department—now housed in the E Street School.)

We took you at your word, mayor. Here's the picture. Now our boss wants to know how soon he can start tearing the building down.

Television Service Dispute Action Delayed In Fairfax

The Fairfax City Council, still caught in the middle of a thorny television franchise problem, delayed action last night for at least a week.

The franchise for a master antenna service is held by Robert D. Lewis of Bob's TV and Sound of San Rafael, but residents have complained about the service.

At a public hearing on revocation last night, V. E. Sharer of Riverside said he would provide more channels for viewers and would expand the service in Fairfax.

Mayor W. E. Radtke said the city previously had an offer from Video Commercial Inc. of San Francisco to provide an antenna system.

Lewis said he in in the process of selling out to Sharer. The system does not produce enough income to warrant to justify spending the money needed to bring it up to ideal performance, he said.

If Lewiss' franchise is revoked, television would be cut off to the 50 families in the Cascade area.

Councilmen said they would consider proposals from both Sharer and Video Commercial at their Feb. 10 meeting.

$40 In Cash, Supplies Stolen At High School

Break-ins of two rooms at San Rafael High School, which netted intruders about $40 in cash and school supplies were reported by San Rafael police today.

Sgt. Louis Foster said someone pried the door to a combination classroom and student bank and took $27.20 from a metal cash drawer. He said the burglar apparently thought receipts from the Friday football game were kept in the room, rather than at police headquarters until Monday when deposited downtown.

The burglars also forced the door to a school supply room, taking $9 worth of paper and writing materials.

The break-ins were during the weekend, Foster said.

Northgate North Plan Gains Some

The San Rafael City Council partially cleared the way last night for the much-discussed Northgate North motel-office building-service station development.

It did so, however, only after developer Douglas M. Christensen declared: "We are prepared to submit to the city attorney restrictions limiting within perpetuity controls existing in the law of the state today the use of this land to those uses shown on the master plan we have submitted."

The master plan calls for the planned community development for a motel complex with ancillaries including restaurant, bar, and specialty shops; an office building, and two service stations.

Until this month, only the two service stations — both on the Manuel Freitas Parkway frontage of the 10.6-acre parcel —have been shown in detail on a series of master plans rejected in turn by planning commission and city council.

The latest master plan shows the office building with maximum height of 53 feet, motel with maximum height of 64 feet, and provides for parking spaces to conform to city ordinance.

Councilmen expressed openly their suspicion that all this might be something that would never come to pass, presented merely as a means to get use permits for the service stations, which are to be built by the Texas Co. and Standard Oil of California. Christensen and his attorney, William G. Corrigan, repeatedly insisted that the motel complex is the heart of the development but motel buliders insist on the two service stations.

The council's action, suggested my Mayor John F. McInnis, was to refer the master plan to City Atty. David Menary Jr. to work out with the developer and the planning commission an agreement which would be binding to assure that no other uses than shown on the plan can be asked for any of the land.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who earlier moved the plan be rejected outright, went along with the proposed solution to make the vote unanimous.

However, Ed Hastings of 1044-D Los Gamos Road, president of the Terra Linda Gardens Assn., renewed objections to location of the service stations directly across Freitas Parkway from the San Rafael Manor cooperative apartments. He said he was authorized to speak for 150 residents of the apartments.

Northgate North is on a knoll within the angle formed by Freitas Parkway and Highway 101, just north of where the Draper Companies are developing the Northgate Shopping Center.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Adopted a resolution and introduced an ordinance for sale of the city hall property to California Newspapers, Inc. Councilman Jensen took occasion to say the council might be criticized by the buyer — the Independent-Journal — for doing so in light of an I-J editorial yesterday on the rising cost of off-street parking. The editorial said parking spaces are costing the city $20,000 each. Councilmen said the figure is nearer one-tenth of that. The council agreed to meet next Monday at 5 p.m. for final passage of the ordinance.

2. Dropped from the agenda discussion of a possible contract between Marin Sanitary Service and the San Rafael Sanitation District, on request of A. E. Bagshaw, attorney for the sanitary service. Bagshaw said the company had abandoned the idea of an exclusive contract.

3. Set for March 2 hearing on vacating public utility easements in Marin Bay Unit 2-A, which has been resubdivided to provide larger lots.

4. Approved changing the name of Marin Bay Drive to McNear Drive.

5. Authorized an exchange of property with Dr. A. J. Nicolai to provide for the westerly extension of Third Street.

6. Passed to print an ordinance repealing a section of the city tree ordinance which forbade planting of evergreen trees in parking strips. Public Works Director Norris Rawles said the restriction apparently dated back to the time of dirt streets, when needles and leaves from the evergreens prevented streets from drying out. Approval of the city tree committee would still be necessary as to varieties of trees to be planted in the strips between sidewalks and curbs.

7. On recommendation of the traffic committee, denied a request of Jack L. Hunt that a parking space be restored at 1714 Fourth Street.

8. Granted Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota and Recreation Supervisor Denis Sullivan permission to attend the state park and recreation conference at Anaheim, Feb. 22-26, at city expense.

New York School Unit Going Ahead

NEW YORK (UPI)—The board of education was pledged today to carry out its school integration plan despite yesterday's boycott that kept one-third of the city's school children out of the classroom and brought threats of more demonstrations to come.

James B. Donovan, board president, and school Superintendent Calvin E. Gross said they would "pursue faithfully" the previously announced plan that integrationists have rejected as "inadequate."

The Rev. Martin Galamison, a boycott organizer, said integration leaders would meet shortly to discuss repeats of yesterday's demonstration, possibly Feb. 18 and Feb. 25.

Indians were the first Americans to frequent the sites of mineral waters. Warring tribes buried their tomahawks at what is now Hot Springs, Ark., so all the braves could benefit from the healthful flow.

Slide Fear In Highlands Is Expressed

Fear that Oakwood Drive in the Rafael Highlands area may collapse was expressed last night by San Rafael's public works director and city engineer.

Public Works Director Norris Rawles told the city council he is concerned about slides on both Oakwood Drive and Valley View Avenue in Fairhills. The former is the more serious, he said, since collapse of the street would isolate homes there.

"That could cost us thousands to fix," commented Councilman Harry A. Barbier.

Rawles and City Engineer Dominic Selmi agreed.

Rawles said he had hired Richard Harding, soils engineer, to make tests on the sliding portion and would have a more complete report for the Feb. 17 council meeting.

$880 Is Raised For Dimes March

A total of $880 was gained for the March of Dimes Saturday through the 10th annual Rancho Nicasio dinner-dance in Nicasio and an airlift at Novato Airport.

Nick Kobseff, Rancho Nicasio owner, said $455 was taken in at the dinner-dance. He said about 250 persons attended.

David Price Jones, Novato attorney, said $425 was netted in rides by 500 people in five planes Saturday afternoon. Both Jones and Kobseff termed the events successful.

School Employee Group Elects

Hugh Cole has been elected as new vice president of Pacheco Chapter 312 of the California School Employees Assn., which includes nonteaching employees in the San Jose School District.

Mrs. Clarence Born will continue as president until the end of the year.

New treasurer is Mrs. Claude Mitchell. Mrs. Leonel Avilla was elected a member of the board.

SAN RAFAEL MAY SELL 7.8 ACRES

City-Owned Property Between Francisco And Canal Might Help Finance City Hall

Nearly eight acres of city-ownel property between Francisco Boulevard and the San Rafael Canal is about to go on the block.

The San Rafael City City Council last night approved a suggestion by City Mgr. Dan E. Anderson that it consider sale of the property, which has been contemplated as a means of financing a new city hall.

The property totals 7.8 acres. The city's corporation yard is on 1.8 acres of it. Much of the remainder is under lease, but the city has been confining leases to short terms since the council two years ago began thinking of selling the land.

At suggestion of Councilman L. H. Bud Baar, the council directed Anderson to ask the Marin County Real Estate Board to prepare recommendations on how the property should be subdivided for sale, and on method of sale. Listing through board's members, rather than sale by the city through advertisement for bids, may then be the method of disposal. City Atty. David Menary Jr. said this would be legal, recalling one previous occasion when the city sold a lot by this method.

Mayor John F. McInnis suggested the city should take steps immediately toward acquiring six acres of flat land adjoing the San Rafael Sanitation District plant, up to two acres of which could be used to relocate the corporation yard.

Public Works Director Norris Rawles raised some objection to this, saying the land must be filled before equipment sheds and equipment can be put there. Anderson was told to investigate the cost of fill.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen questioned the wisdom of selling the Francisco Boulevard property since it yields about $35,000 per year to the city in rentals. However, Mayor McInnis and Councilman Harry A. Barbier declared it would generate more than that in sales tax if developed for commercial use.

Consulting engineer Daniel P. Coleman last year drew up a proposed development plan for the property, calling for a marina with surrounding commercial activities. City Manager Anderson at that time proposed rezoning to planned community to control development along the lines outlined by Coleman in case of sale. He said last night, however, that he thought no rezoning was needed prior to sale.

Radio Alarms For Firemen Approved

The Fairfax City Council last night authorized a radio alarm system that will cut down blowing of the fire whistle and eliminate unnecessary runs by volunteer firemen.

Receivers will sound the alarm in the homes of paid fireman and therefore it won't be necesary to sound the fire whistle on all calls, Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton reported.

The fire whistle will continue to be blown on fire calls, but the new system will eliminate the blowing of the fire whistle in 95 per cent of the resuscitator calls," he said.

Under the present system, the whistle blows on resuscitator calls and volunteers respond even though they are not needed.

The council approved purchase of seven receivers at a cost of $120.50 each. Chief Thornton said it would be two months before the receivers are delivered.

The council also approved purchase of a traffic stop signal with an attached siren to be placed in front of the firehouse at 140 Bolinas Road, at cost of $348.

Teacher To Discuss Exchange Students

Foreign exchange students will be topic of a public information meeting at 8 p.m. today in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Rothrock, 19 Garden Avenue, Ross.

The meeting is one of a series sponsored by Redwood High School. Speaker is Robert J. Mautner, Redwood language teacher who is also chairman of the international activities group of the high school.

Camino Alto May Become Four Lanes

One of Mill Valley's major thoroughfares, Camino Alto, should be examined in relation to the 1964-65 budget, with a view to widening it to four lanes, the Mill Valley City Council agreed last night.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said "it never really was surveyed or planned." He suggested a divider strip, planting, sidewalks, curb and gutters and turnoffs.

Saying the three-fourth mile strip connecting Miller and East Blithedale avenues would not be "inexpensive" to improve, Bala told councilmen that engineering should be done one year before construction. Camino Alto should be widened toward the marshland, not toward the west, he added.

Bala also said these three projects are scheduled: Widening Miller Avenue extension to Almonte Boulevard, to start in June and to be completed before students go back to school; work on East Blithedale, which could start in September, and, work on Sycamore Avenue extension from Camino Alto east to the harbor. "We will need this street," he said, "somewhere in the spring of 1965."

Miller Avenue in the Locust District is the remaining piece to be developed, he said.

Councilmen heard that $28,065 has been collected in business license fee receipts. But, with the increase of license fees last year it was expected to raise $37,000. And, since only $262 more can be collected in March, the final quarter, the expected one-third increase cannot be realized. City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer was asked to make recommendations.

"I don't understand this," said Councilman Michael Wornum.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Adopted a resolution amending the master plan for an Enchanted Knolls drainage district and introduced an ordinance setting charges at $113 per acre.
2. Approved a tentative map of Enchanted Knolls subdivision unit 5 fronting on the east side of Roque Moraes Drive.
3. Adopted, reading by title only, an ordinance requiring a builder who sought a variance after he started construction to pay a $70 fee instead of $35.
4. Set for Feb. 17 hearing on the zoning of Redwood Camp annexation, now unclassified, as a single family residential in 10,000 square foot lots.
5. Set Feb. 17 to hear protests on rezoning Robert Greene property on Sunnyside Avenue from duplex to commercial.
6. Approved a use permit for Food Mart, 12 Sycamore Avenue, to give J. and B. Ford Sales a storage lot for automobiles and added parking close to the mart for grocery patrons.
7. Asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to try to find a legal way to refund $483 to Marin Capital Co., the firm having been charged 4 per cent for engineering inspection fee and the fee subsequently being reduced to 3 per cent. Jordan said it would be hard to do but he will study it.
8. Authorized publication of notice of the municipal election April 14.
9. Agreed to a city proclamation honoring the annual Easter Seal campaign.
10. Heard requests from F. J. Grew and Molly Citrin that another driveway test be made at Lloyd L. Seltzinger's duplex at 20 Millwood Street. Council said it would wait for a report from the architectural advisory commission and planning commission on a test already made.
11. Approved warrants totaling $53,519.
12. Approved a $500 bill for the moving expenses of Balmer from Fresno to Mill Valley.
13. Discussed the proposed fill moratorium of San Francisco Bay, heard council's opinions are mixed, and asked Balmer to convey these feelings to the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.
14. Adjourned in memory of Herman Hein, landscape architect, who died Saturday, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks saying "He was one of Mill Valley's greatest and most distinguished citizens."

Bolinas Beach Group Elects

Dr. Jack Powers of Stockton was elected 1964 president of the Bolinas Beach Improvement Assn. Saturday, succeeding John S. Lancaster of Bolinas.

Frank Davis of Bolinas was elected vice president and Mrs. C. P. Froehlich of Berkeley was elected secretary.

Association members have been invited to a meeting on plans of the Bolinas Public Utility District at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Bolinas Community Center Building, Mrs. Froehlich said.

Novato Candidates

William Jack Adams and Douglas M. Merrill, candidates for the Novato City Council, will discuss their qualifications and platform at a public meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community House.

Pimentel Ranch Plan Gets Quick Approval

A tentative map of 169 lots, the first unit of the development of the Pimentel Ranch near Novato, was quickly approved without comment yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The land includes that which had originally been proposed by Presidio Development Co. for a shopping center and apartments, but not any of the proposed cluster areas on four hilltops in the ranch.

The commission required that the developer widen Vineyard and Mill roads where they front on the subdivision.

A boat sales building for Karl Kalb was approved for the waterfront near the Greenbrae bridge.

A townhouse development in Lucas Valley by Eichler Development Co. was approved, although Principal Planner David Van Pelt said the proposal was heavily developed with 10 units per acre.

Commissioner William F. Upton said he thought the plan with an unrelieved elevation facing Lucas Valley Road was "a perfect example of conformity."

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Approved an addition to the Bekins Moving Co., at 24 Bellam Boulevard, just south of San Rafael.
2. Approved a tentative map of 130 lots on 33 acres of Pleasant Valley, submitted by Roberts and Aquirre Contractors, Inc.
3. Continued until Feb. 17 action on plans of an apartment house for Melvin Silverman at Adrian and LaBrea Ways, Santa Venetia.
4. Approved a tentative map of 16 lots on 4.5 acres for Westwood Homes, Inc., on Center Road, near Novato.
5. Approved a tentative map of Parlee Estates, as revised, 70 lots on 26 acres along Tennessee Valley Road, proposed by Clifford Parlee.
6. Approved a tentative map of Wolfe Glen Way, a six-lot subdivision by Trico Enterprises, Inc., near Wolfe Grade, Kentfield.
7. Continued to Feb. 17 proposals by Marlin Development Co. for construction of a postoffice next to the Kentfield Fire Station.
8. Approved a request by Wilfred de Cook to combine two lots to make one 9,000-square foot building site, in spite of the fact a 10-foot private lane runs between the lots, at 519 Pixie Trail, Homestead Valley.
9. Continued to Feb. 17 request by I. N. Tucker for several setback adjustments for construction of a medical building at 32 Reed Street and an adjacent X-ray transformer building at 25 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley.

Commissioner Charles R. Johnson was absent.

Fairfax Council Approves Of Cutting 3 Hazardous Trees

The Fairfax City Council last night approved by 3-2 vote cutting down of three eucalyptus trees along 154-158 Ridgeway Avenue.

Thus three residents who consider the 90-foot trees hazardous were granted permission to remove the trees, and a group of neighbors who fought to save the trees lost their battle.

Councilman Stan Wilsey and Cornelis Van Vliet voted to save the trees. Mayor W. E. Radtke and Councilmen Frank L. Lawrence and Freeman Blake voted to cut them down.

The council deadlocked on the issue last month when Blake was absent.

"None of us is against trees," Blake said before casting the deciding vote. He said he felt the residents requesting the tree removal "were really scared," and had offered the city a reasonable proposal by assuming the $360 cost involved.

Council permission for removal of the trees was sought by Jack Harrington, Vernon S. Stroupe and Lyle T. Child. They contended the trees are a hazard. Stroupe said last night they will plant other trees.

Mrs. Florence M. Elliott of 160 Ridgeway, who opposed the cutting, said there were residents willing to top the eucalyptus trees, but the council did not approve this compromise offer. A petition with 43 signatures protesting the cutting was presented to the council last month.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

1. Agreed to prepare a resolution on a slope policy for building requiring an increase in lot sizes based on the degree of the slope. Dan M. Miller, planning commission chairman, recommended the policy.
2. Approved formation of a three-member committee to study feasibility of preparing a master plan for Fairfax and appointed Van Vliet and Miller to the committee.
3. Gave first reading to an ordinance exempting home businesses netting less than $1,200 a year from paying a business license.
4. Authorized the mayor and the city clerk to negotiate a contract with Arthur F. Moraes, owner of the Fairfax Garbage Disposal Co. Councilman Lawrence dissented.
5. Introduced an ordinance carrying the county rules and regulations on septic tanks.
6. Agreed that when the resolution calling for an election in April is presented at the next council meeting, Feb. 10, it will consider a measure to have the city treasurer appointed rather than elected.

Mill Valley GOP Assembly Names New Offices

Ad Zang Jr. of Mill Valley, an operations research engineer, will head the Mill Valley Republican Assembly this year.

He was elected president at a meeting last Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Heynemann in Belvedere.

Other officers elected are Joe Jordan, first vice president; Mrs. Heynemann, second vice president; Tita Lanser, third vice president; Mrs. Blanche Wishart, secretary, and Mrs. Arlene Zang, treasurer.

Directors are Tom Clow, Tom DeMund, Chester Vargas, and Mrs. Jeannette Beddow.

The Mill Valley Republican Assembly will help sponsor a Marin appearance of Lee Kaiser of Atherton, Republican candidate for U.S. senator. Kaiser will speak at the Marin Civic Center at 8:30 p. m. Feb. 18.

Marin County Young Republicans and Republican Assembly units in Marin will sponsor the meeting.

Bagley Trying For Measure On Election Purity

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) yesterday introduced a "purity of elections" bill in the legislature, calling for full disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures.

This is similar to one killed during the 1963 legislature. Bagley said he believes the new bill could qualify for consideration in this year's special session under the special call items on voting machines and creation of a committee to study elections.

Bagley's bill would correct the present situation which requires lists of names of contributors and totals received but does not require a report of how much a particular person contributed. The Marin assemblyman said the bill would apply to all contributions of $75 or more and all expenditures of $50 or more.

The ghost of Lady Lightfoot of Shelsley Walsh, Worcestershire, Englnd, is said to appear in a coach with four fiery horses and drive wildly through the old house. As a finale, she plunges into the moat.

Planners Deny Small Billboard For Company

If Roos-Atkins is not allowed to have a small billboard facing Highway 101 at least temporarily, the clothing company wil not lease in the Northgate Shoping Center, the Marin County Planning Commission was told yesterday.

Request for the sign, made by Draper Companies, developers of the shopping center, fell on deaf ears. Two representatives of the Marin Conservation League and one from the Marin Garden Club were present to fight the proposal.

"It's just one tenant," commented commissioner William F. Upton. "How could we deny the same privilege to others?"

"If it is a suitable location for a store, they will go there whether the sign goes in or not," said John Bissinger of the conservation league. The vote to deny was unanimous.

Meeting Suggested On Planning

A special meeting should be called to sound out the cities on a proposal for consolidation of all planning staffs in the county, the Marin County Planning Commission decided today.

Commissioner Felix M. Warburg made a motion, which was approved, to ask the county board of supervisors to call such a meeting.

Commissioner Henry C. Hankins said the cities spent $104,000 last year on planning, and predicted major savings could be made.

Commissioner William F. Upton said the impression the county staff would take over the whole show should be avoided. He said consolidation should be emphasized.

"We won't get anywhere on the planning commission level with the cities," said Warburg. "It must be on the policy level."

Chairman Niels Schultz Jr. suggested the matter might first be broached at a meeting of the council of mayors. "I don't think much time can be justified investigating the proposal unless there is some encouragement from the cities," he added.

Heliport Changes Plans In Area

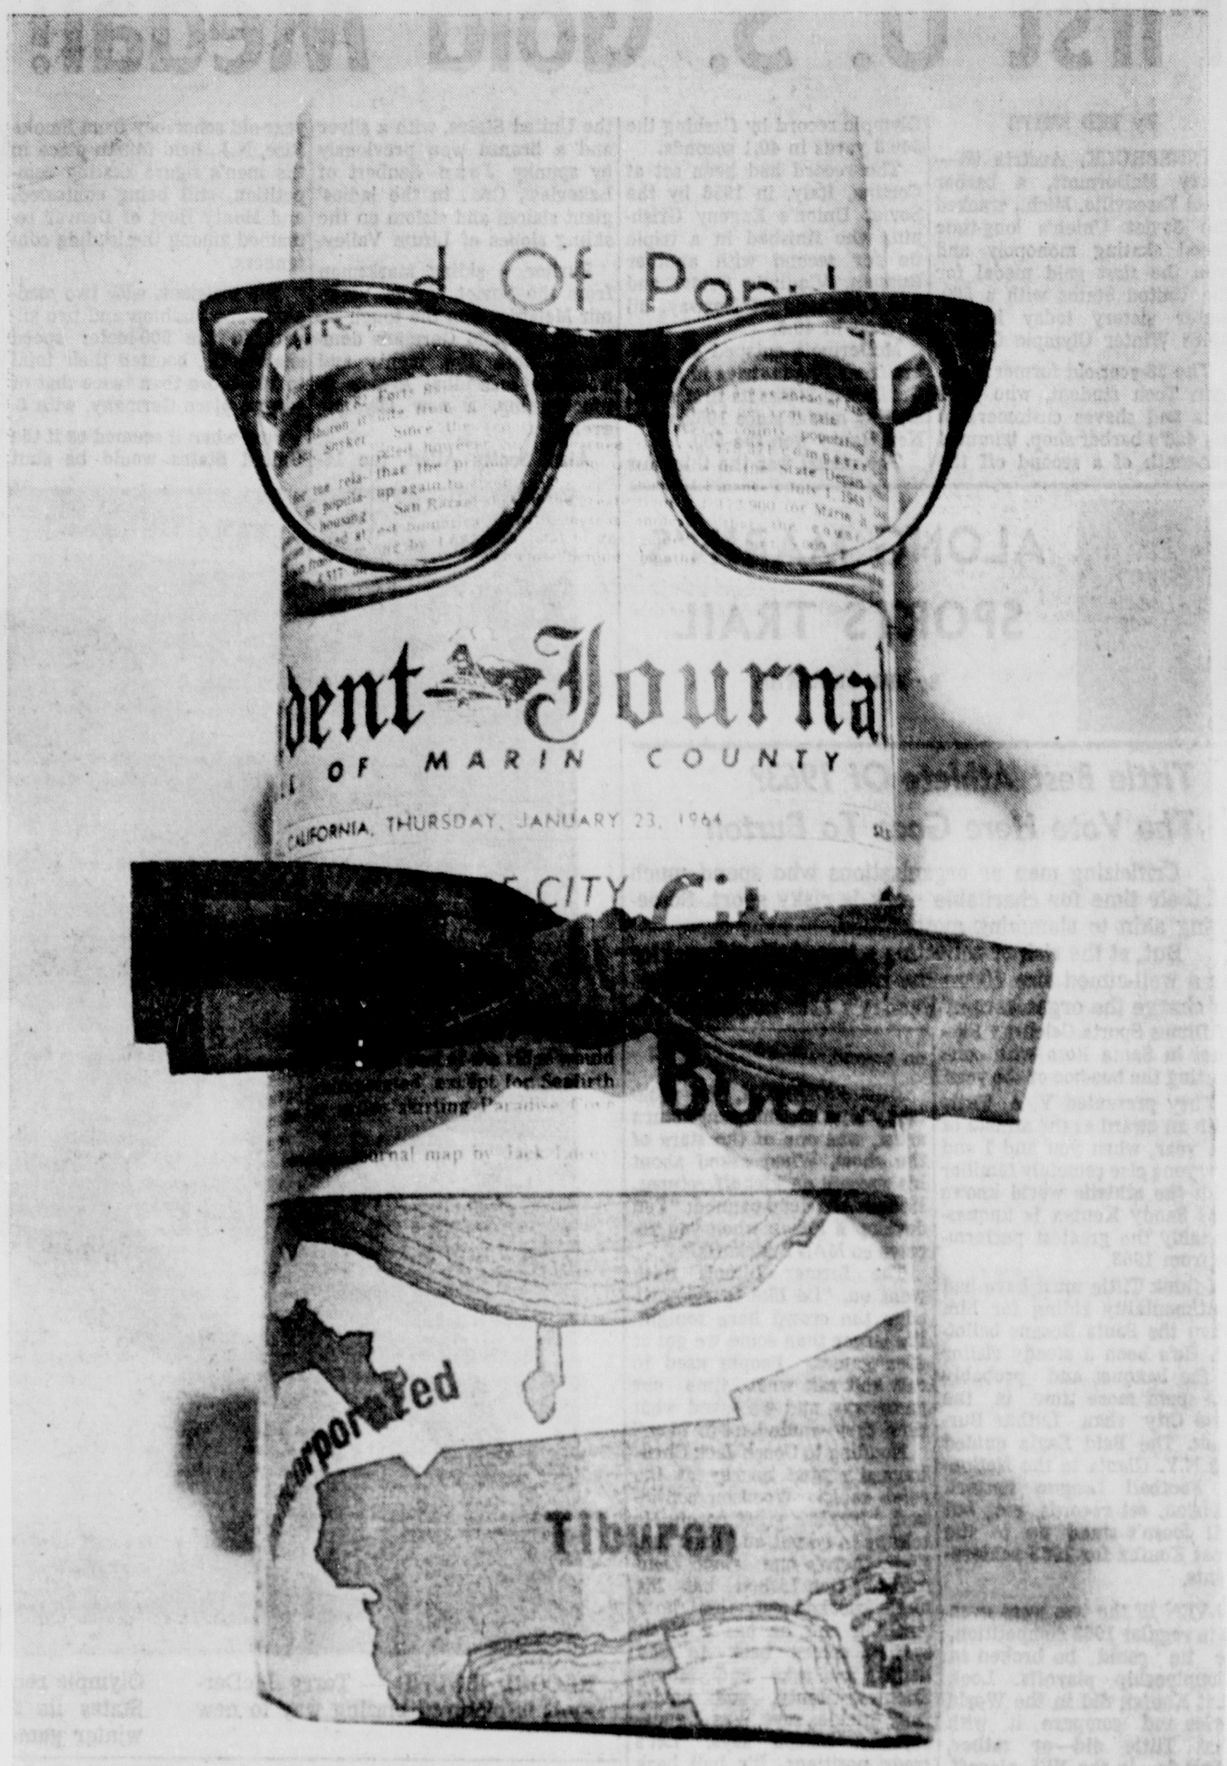

Approval by the County Board of Supervisors of an allocation to provide a heliport on Richardson Bay has stymied planning studies of the area for the time being, Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told the county planning commission yesterday.

Dobbs noted the land in the area is now zoned for industrial uses, but a change to commercial or recreational-commercial is expected.

However, the heliport may greatly influence development of the entire area, he predicted.

A mail order house still carries a supply of pot-bellied stoves, the general store kind; cast iron coal stoves, woodburners with a four-led top; and old-fashioned clothes wringers probably for people who don't cotton to new-fangled modern appliances.

First U. S. Gold Medal! Skater Smashes Record

By TED SMITS

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Terry McDermott, a barber from Essexville, Mich., cracked the Soviet Union's long-time speed skating monopoly and won the first gold medal for the United States with a 500-meter victory today in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

The 23-year-old former Michigan Tech student, who clips hair and shaves customers in his dad's barber shop, trimmed one-tenth of a second off the Olympic record by flashing the 546.8 yards in 40.1 seconds.

The record had been set at Cortina, Italy, in 1956 by the Soviet Union's Eugeny Grishnin, who finished in a triple tie for second with another Russian, Vladimir Orlov, and Alv Gjestvang of Norway, all clocked in 40.6.

McDermott outsped 43 skaters from 19 countries in giving the United States its first speed skating medal since 1952, when Ken Henry won the 500.

The medal was the third for the United States, with a silver and a bronze won previously by spunky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., in the ladies' giant slalom and slalom on the skiing slopes of Lizum Valley.

Earlier, a skiing marksman from the Soviet Union, Vladimir Melanin, won the tough biathlon test and Germans dominated both the men's and women's individual events in tobogganing, a new Olympic event.

Also, Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old schoolboy from Smoke Rise, N.J., held fourth place in the men's figure skating competition, still being contested, and Monty Hoyt of Denver remained among the leading contenders.

The Russians, with two medals in the biathlon and two silvers in the 500-meter speed skating tie, boosted their total to 19—more than twice that of second place Germany, with 8.

Just when it seemed as if the United States would be shut out of any first places in the Games, McDermott uncorked a superb race to overtake the three leaders.

Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., knowing he had to do 40.6 or better to stand any chance of a medal—only just missed it. He was clocked in 40.9.

Tom Gray of Bloomington, the other American entrant, did 41.5.

The Germans finished 1-2-3 in the men's tobogganing — known as luge in Europe—and 1-2 in the women's, with the bronze medal going to Austria.

The luge is a small sled, little more than a wooden plank and two iron runners, on which European children slide down snow banks.

The Olympic luge track for men measures 1,100 yards with 18 tricky, hairpin bends. An unseasonal thaw made the track almost unusable Monday but an overnight freeze made it lightning fast.

Thomas Koehler of Germany, a 23-year-old student, won the men's individual tobogganing title by sweeping down the course four times in 3 minutes, 26.77 seconds.

His teammate, Klaus Michael Bonsack, a locksmith, registered 3:27.04, with the best time of all on his final run of 52.42 seconds. Hans Plenk made it a sweep in 3:30.15.

The women's luge title went to Ortun Enderlein, 24-year-old East German factory worker, who shot down the course four times in a total of 3 minutes, 24.67.

Ilse Geisler, a teammate, was second in 3:27.42 followed by Helene Thurner, a 25-year-old Austrian housemaid, in 3:29.06.

The lone U.S. entry, Dorothy Hirschland of Closert, N.J., withdrew after the first run.

Tittle Best Athlete Of 1963? The Vote Here Goes To Burton

Criticizing men or organizations who spend much of their time for charitable work is risky sport. Something akin to slamming motherhood.

But, at the risk of collecting a nose full of knuckles or a well-aimed size 10 on the rotund posterior I have to charge the organizers of Sunday's 11th annual March of Dimes Sports Celebrity Banquet in Santa Rosa with committing the boo-boo of the year.

They presented Y. A. Tittle with an award as the athlete of the year, when you and I and everyone else remotely familiar with the athletic world knows that Sandy Koufax is unquestionably the greatest performer from 1963.

I think Tittle must have had sentimentality riding for him when the Santa Rosans balloted. He's been a steady visitor at the banquet and probably has spent more time in the Rose City than Luthur Burbank. The Bald Eagle guided the N.Y. Giants to the National Football League Eastern Division, set records, etc., but still doesn't stand up to the great Koufax for 1963 achievements.

EVEN IF the two were even up in regular 1963 competition, the tie could be broken in championship playoffs. Look what Koufax did in the World Series and compare it with what Tittle did—or rather, didn't do—in the NFL playoff.

Picking Tittle over Koufax is comparable to giving Eddie Fisher the most valuable player award over Richard Burton. Eddie's good, but, let's face it men, Dickie Boy is holding the trophy.

SANTA ROSA'S shindig was another smash hit with a long line of sports greats entertaining 557 men and boys at the Flamingo Hotel where the audience paid $7.50 to $10 apiece with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes. Even sports writers paid their way in which accounts for all that screaming you may have heard. They think Charity's a first baseman on a double play combination with Faith at short and Hope on second.

ABE WOODSON, the fabulous 49er kick and punt return artist, was one of the stars of the show. When asked about his success on kickoff returns, Honest Abe dead-panned: "You develop a knack when you receive so MANY kickoffs."

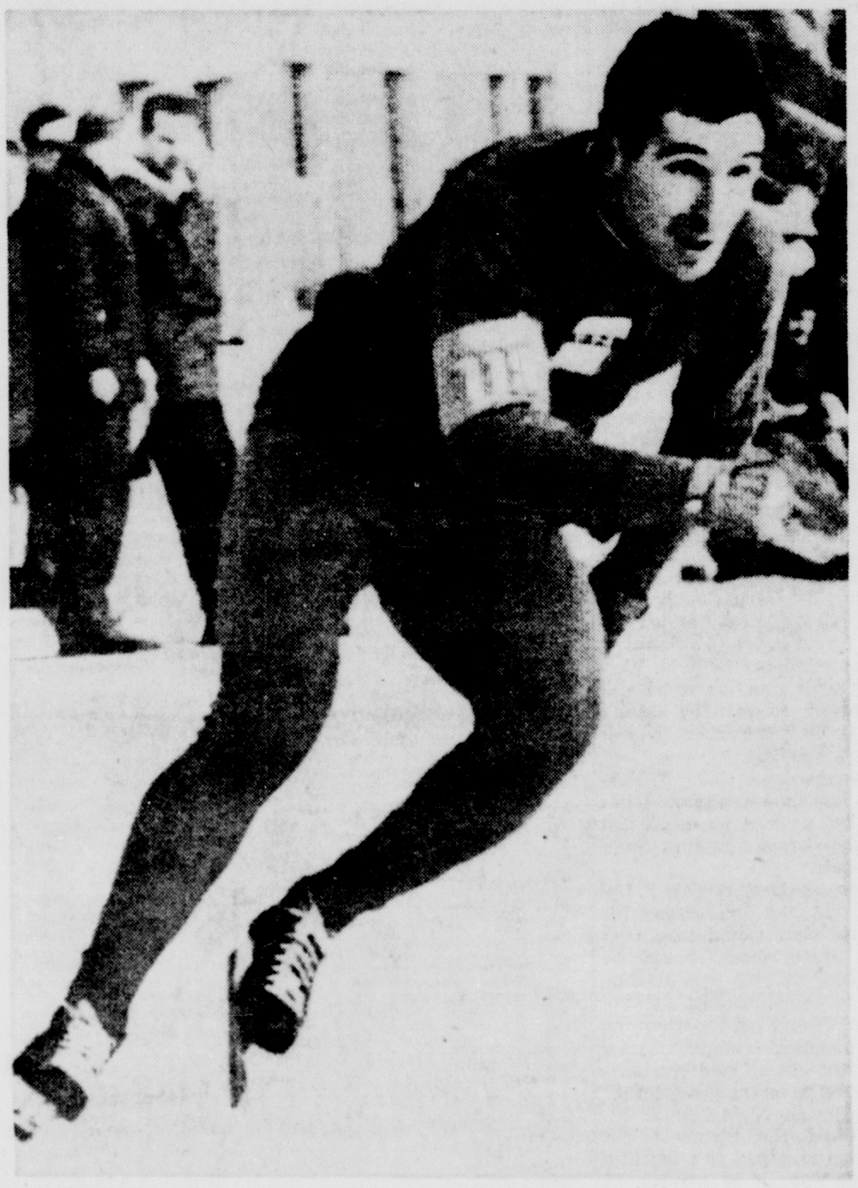

The former Illinois flash went on, "I'd like to acknowledge the crowd here tonight. It's larger than some we got at 49er games. People used to call and ask what time our game was, and we asked what time they wanted us to play."

Nodding to Coach Jack Christiansen seated nearby at the celeb table, Woodson continued, "Jack's a great coach. He told us to go out and have fun. Well, there's one game and fullback Don Lisbon has his tooth knocked out, his nose bleeding and he has a black eye. He comes back to the huddle and asks end Monty Stickles, 'Monty, you havin' fun? Stickles says, 'Yes, I guess so,' and Lisbon says, 'Let's trade positions, It's hell back here.'"

WOODSON WAS asked one more question: What goes through your mind when you're standing back there waiting for a kickoff and the ground is thundering with those tacklers coming at you?

"Well," said Abe, raising his hands up in front of him. "First I see the ball, then I look up at heaven and pray, 'Oh, Lord, let me catch this ball and get the hell out of here.'"

There were many more laughs from the lips of Alvin Dark, Bob St. Clair, Mike Ditka, Ron Fairly, Jimmy Davenport and many others. Tune in tomorrow and we'll report some of the more quotable quotes.

Soviet Stars Hail New Speed Champ

McDermott Set Record With Borrowed Skates

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI)—Even the King and Queen of Soviet speedskating, Evgeny Grishin and Lidia Skoblikova, joined today in hailing America's first gold medal winner of the Winter Olympic Games — dark-haired Terry McDermott of Essexville, Mich.

"McDermott was the best," said Grishin, the heavy favorite whose attempt to win the 500-meter speedskating gold medal for the third straight time was thwarted when the U.S. ace broke Grishin's Olympic record with a 40.1 seconds clocking.

And Mrs. Skoblikova, the out standing star of the Winter Olympics as a result of her sweep of all four women's speedskating events, came to the U.S. dressing room to congratulate McDermott.

"You are very, very good," said blonde Lidia as a Soviet radio man made a tape of the conversation for the folks back in Moscow.

McDermott's upset victory, ending six days of gold medal frustration for the U.S. Olympic team, touched off a wild scene of joy at the Olympic Ice Stadium.

McDermott was swarmed under by coaches and athletes when he swept across the finish line one-tenth of a second faster than Grishin's Olympic record and five-tenths faster than the Soviet star could skate today in finishing in a three-way tie for second.

McDermott disappeared under the wave of admirers as Coach Leo Freisinger of Los Angeles led the cheering with "lovely, lovely, wonderful."

When he was allowed to get his breath, McDermott explained that he was wearing a pair of skates he borrowed from Freisinger when his own skates broke in Colorado.

"They're your skates now, Terry," broke in the grinning Freisinger.

Grishin said he thought "all the Americans have been improving quite a lot technically in the last 12 months." He added, "I've been expecting this American breakthrough for years now."

The Soviet star refused to use a slight skid he made on the first turn as an excuse for his defeat.

"McDermott was the best," he said. "I wouldn't have beaten him even without the skid in the first turn."

PGA's Capone Mob Demands May Cancel Crosby Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Professional golfers are making such "outrageous demands" that the Bing Crosby tournament may not be held in 1965, Larry Crosby, tournament director, said yesterday.

Crosby, speaking from his Beverly Hills headquarters, said the Professional Golfers Assn., has asked for "75 per cent of all television money on tournament sponsored events.

"This is worse than the Capone mob moving in!" Crosby said.

Crosby said the PGA was demanding most of the profits that went to charity last month and is commanding the sponsors to step aside and allow the players themselves to run the television.

"We will turn them down flat and if they don't like it we'll pull the tournament out from under them," said Crosby.

PGA officials are to meet this weekend in Phoenix with 25 other members of the International Golf Sponsors' Assn. to negotiate 1965 contracts.

"We are unable to do a thing until a solution is reached in Phoenix," Crosby said. "Until then we cannot negotiate with television network or the sponsor, which last month was Minnesota Mining.

"At this time everything is very much up in the air."

However, he said, "I intend to go to Arizona personally in an attempt to handle this. If they persist in taking all but 25 per cent of the television revenue I have authorization to throw in the sponge."

Crosby said the tournament is a benefit tournament and depends heavily on profits from television to support such groups as the Boy Scouts of America, Monterey Peninsula Council for Retarded Children and other associations.

49ers Hire Ex-Detroit Star; Three Giant Hurlers Signed

Jim David Picked To Coach S.F. Defensive Backs

Jim David once again has returned to the "scene of the crime," this time as defensive backfield coach of the San Francisco 49ers.

Coach Jack Christiansen appointed David to the National Football League team's staff yesterday. They played together in the defensive secondary for the Detroit Lions.

At the same time, it was announced that Jack Myers had quit as 49er offensive backfield coach.

In 1953, when Y. A. Tittle was the 49er quarterback, he rolled out on a bootieg play and dived over the goal for a touchdown in a game in Detroit.

Tittle's cheekbone and David's knee inadvertently arrived at the same spot simultaneously, fracturing the cheekbone. When David appeared in San Francisco for the rematch, 49er fans, who witnessed the Detroit incident on television, lustily booed David.

David, who played for the Lions from 1952 through 1958, was a scout for the Los Angeles Rams last season after two years of coaching the defensive backfield for that club.

When he was ap layer, David had to be escorted from the Los Angeles Coliseum field by police after an incident, and fans, being partisan, took their own side.

Yet, David had an excellent reputation as a player, especially for being what is known as "hard-nosed," because he was always running up against opponents much bigger than he.

Myers, former head coach at the University of the Pacific, served one year on the 49er staff and said he is leaving coaching to enter private business in Stockton.

AFTER QUARTER OF CENTURY, ANOTHER ACE

Samuel Dutart of Ross, 63-year-old vice president and director of the Meadow Club, shot a hole-in-one on the 140-yard 11th hole at the Fairfax links Saturday.

It was the second ace scored by Dutart who had recorded one 25 years ago in Marysville. He used a five-iron to get Sautrday's hole-in-one.

Witnessing the ace were George Kerrigan, Bud Pagannini, Dr. Robert Brennan and Oscar Baan.

Then on Sunday, William J. Eichorn of San Francisco scored a hole-in-one on the 150-yard 16th hole at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club in San Rafael. He was using a six iron and was playing with Bob Grant, Ray Sarlatte and Sam Chicos.

Probation Dept., Deputies Triumph

The Probation Department spanked the San Rafael Ward Saints and then the Sheriff's Deputies got in the act by whipping boys from the Post Office last night in the San Rafael High School gym.

It was only basketball, however.

Cagers on the Probation Department team won their game 47-35 and the Sheriff's Deputies won their scrap 55-31 in Class C action of the San Rafael Recreation Department Adult Basketball League.

Scoring String Snaps

DENVER (AP) — When the University of Denver hockey team took a 5-0 pasting from the Canadian Olympic squad, it was the Pioneers' first shutout in 171 games.

Larsen, Perry, Bishop Sign; 9 More To Go

With the signing of three pitchers, the San Francisco Giants are nine shy of putting under contract all 40 players the National League club wants to take into spring training.

Veteran reliever Don Larsen led the parade of right-handers to the dotted line yesterday. He was 7-7 last year. But his 3.05 earned run average was the best in his 11-year major league career, including the season in which he pitched the perfect World Series game.

Gaylord Perry, 1-6 with the Giants in 1963, and Bob Bishop, 4-2 with Springfield in the Eastern League, also came to terms. Bishop had a mid-season operation to remove bone chips from his elbow.

Home run leader Willie McCovey and 25-game winner Juan Marichal are considered the most reluctant to sign of the nine remaining Giant strays. That is unless the club offers more money.

Hamilton-Loma Verde Li'l League Sign-Ups

The Hamilton-Loma Verde Little League Assn. will hold its 1964 registration at Hamilton Air Force Base tonight and tomorrow night, 7:30.

Boys born between Aug. 1, 1951, and July 31, 1956, are eligible to register. Registration must be made by a parent, guardian or adult with the authority to sign for the youngster.

Fred Hutchinson Slated To Report To Spring Drills

SEATTLE (UPI) — Dr. Orliss Wildermuth of the Swedish Hospital Tumor Institute said today Fred Hutchinson, Cincinnati Reds manager, was progressing very satisfactorily after being stricken with cancer shortly before Christmas.

Wildermuth said the tumor has decreased in size since Hutchinson began treatments here.

"It is extremely gratifying," Wildermuth said. "Normally, at this stage of treatment we are happy if the tumor has stopped growing.

"In Fred's case a survey of the area of involvment showed a definite regression of the tumor."

Wildermuth added that Hutchinson should be able to report for spring training at Tampa, Fla., scheduled for March 1.

Phoenix Open 'On' As Feud Settled

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A dispute between the Phoenix Thunderbirds and the Professional Golfers has ended in agreement, and the $50,000 Phoenix Open will be played beginning Thursday.

Observers say, however, the disagreement could be the opening of a full-scale war between the PGA and tourney sponsoring groups throughout the nation.

The apparent cause of the conflict is assignment of television rights. It was a major cause of the Phoenix-PGA trouble.

The Phoenix sponsors announced that difficulties with the PGA were worked out late last night.

Len Huck, Big Chief for the special events group of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, would not say what agreements were reached.

He did say that the PGA tourney committee had lifted an edict that any PGA member who played in Phoenix would be suspended for the remainder of the year.

Huck said his group had signed a contract, but did not disclose the terms.

First Place Warriors Host Detroit Tonight

The San Francisco Warriors will be battling to maintain their number one spot in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn. tonight at 8:15 when they tangle with the Detroit Pistons at University of San Francisco Gymnasium.

The Warriors have won 13 of their last 18 starts to move ahead of second place St. Louis by three percentage points. The Pistons currently are the doormats of the Western Division, but they were the only team to beat San Francisco during the Warriors' recent tour of the east.

It will be a brief homestand for Coach Alex Hannum's Warriors, who play Detroit again at San Jose Thursday and then head east for a crucial two-game series with St. Louis.

Meanwhile, the latest NBA statistics show that Wilt Chamberlain's monopoly on the scoring race appears safe—but he'll have a fight on his hands for the rebounding title.

Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics has taken the lead with 1,203 rebounds in 49 games for a 24.6 average. Chamberlain has 1,188 rebounds in 54 games for a 22.0 average.

However, Wilt leads in scoring with 1,936 points and an average of 35.9 per game. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati is second with 1,643 and 30.8.

Dodger Manager Alston Sees Better Pitching, Hitting For World Champs

By WALTER ALSTON
Manager, L. A. Dodgers

DARRTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Dodgers won the 1963 National League pennant and the World Series on pitching. I'm hoping we can give the mound crew a little more help this year at the plate.

And, before we get away from pitching, I'd like to say we're hoping to improve there. No, you can't except the top three — Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Johnny Podres — and our ace reliever Ron Perranoski to do much better but it's in the depth of the staff that I'm concerned.

I'd like to make a reliever out of Bob Miller. He'd give us good protection out there in the bullpen with Perranoski and, down the stretch last year, he showed he likes that sort of work. He was one of our strongest pitchers in August and September and may be a relief star in the making.

But before we can enjoy that luxury we've got to find other starters. Pete Richert, Nick Willhite, Joe Moeller, Phil Ortega, Dick Calmus and Larry Sherry all will be given a shot at front line duty during spring training and perhaps one or two of them will join Sandy, Don and Johnny in the regular rotation. Let's hope so.

One move I plan in an attempt to add to our club's offensive strength is to give Frank Howard a chance to play every day. Frank was hampered by a sore arm last year and would have played more often if physically able. But if things go according to plan, he will get that chance in 1964.

I'm really hoping to forget about the two-platoon as far as the outfield is concerned. I'd like to play it all the way with Tommy Davis in left, Willie Davis in center and Howard in right. That's the way it will be if the other pieces fall into place. Willie showed us a fine bat down the stretch and Tommy once again was batting champion of the league. Early season injuries cost him a shot at the RBI title.

It is in the infield where some maneuvering is likely. By now everyone is getting used to the story about Jim Gilliam becoming a utility man. Actually, after the great year he had, it isn't likely he's ready for that role, even yet. But we probably could help Jim by moving him to third.

That would leave second for either Dick Tracewski, who showed a fine hand there in the World Series, and Pee Wee Oliver, who hit .321 at Spokane after his early Dodger try. Both of these boys could spell Maury Wills at short, too, although we're hoping Maury won't run into the injuries which hampered him a great deal last year.

With Bill Skowron gone, Ron Fairly would seem to have a clear shot at first but we'll also take a look at third baseman Ken McMullen with a first baseman's mitt. Again, we'd be looking for right-handed punch.

Mighty UCLA Invades Bear Lair This Week

Walt Hazzard and Company otherwise known as the undefeated UCLA Bruins—check into the University of California gym this weekend for a crucial Big Six series against the Bears who don't figure to survive it.

Although trailing the top-ranked Bruins by only one game in the conference standings, the Bears dropped two contests last weekend to Oregon while the Bruins were brushing off ambitious U.C. of Santa Barbara twice. Both were non-league series.

This gave Cal a season mark of 10-8 while the Bruins, the king of the UPI and A.P. ratings, rolled to a 17-0 showing.

Over in the West Coast Athletic Conference, the University of San Francisco's pacesetting Dons go after their eighth straight win Thursday when they meet San Jose State as the league race resumes following a lull for exams. USF is 3-0 in the standings while the Spartans are 2-0.

Three out of four Big Six Conference members were beaten in outside games with only UCLA winning. The Bruins made it two straight over Canta Barbara, 87-59 behind a 31-point flurry by Gail Goodrich. He hit for 23 of them in the first half.

BEARS BOW

Oregon State, in the meantime, downed the Big Six's Washington Huskies, 67-59 while Oregon made it two straight over Cal, 72-64 and Arizona bested Southern California, 71-63. Mel Counts led the Beavers by putting away 26 points.

Steve Jones scored 25 points in Oregon's win over the Bears who blew a 10 point lead in the first half. He bucketed a fielder that sent Oregon in front to stay, 44-2, with 13:14 left in the game.

USF rolled to its seventh straight win, the Dons' longest skein since the 1957-58 season, by beating Redlands, 74-45. Ollie Johnson, battling for the national field goal shooting title, hit on 9 of his 13 shots from the floor during the non-loop contest and accounted for 21 points and 18 rebounds during the 25 minutes that he played.

'Many Called, Few Chosen' Applies To Weekend Steelhead Venture

STEVENS

Many are called, but few are chosen sure 'nuff applies to the steelhead venture over the weekend. Just about every square footh of casting space on the "Loop" stream was occupied on Saturday and Sunday. Sad to relate those chosen were few and far between. An occasional fish was landed, of course, but the overall average was around three scales and a fin per angler. Exceptions? Sure! Ernie Titus of the Garcia Hotel in Point Arena hauled in his legal limit, as did the well known ex-football coach, Herman Meister. A few old timers made the grade in the Gualala, and a few fish hit plugs and spinners on the Navarro, Noya, and Ten Mile, comparison to the horde of hopefuls on the job. With the exception of the Navarro, which was reported still a bit on the murky side, all the upper Loop streams are in prime condition. Probably lots of steelhead in the holes. So there may still be some fancy steelhead fishing before the season closes. Expect, however, to find 60 downstreamers out of every 100 caught.

CONGRATULATIONS to R. O. Finney, who coaxed a 10-pound steelhead to take his offering of fresh roe on the Russian River Saturday, and—Watch the Navarro for a grandstand finish!

ALSO, CONGRATS to John Eberhart of Mill Valley, who caught two 32-inch steelhead in Walker River near Tomales Sunday morning.

No comment on the southern streams except to suggest you bring your own rock to stand on.

GOOD NEWS FROM Lake Berryessa. Seems the steelhead are in hiding, but the black bass are eager to test your skill. Joe Navarro reported Frank Trejo and wife taking limits of blackies near El Ray Canyon Saturday on a black eel lure; Tom Elmonde and Edwin Bailey worked Spanish Flats for 18 nice large catfish and lacked only one of boating two limits of blackies—cats on Night Crawlers, and bass on lures.

Catfishing in the back country continues good, but striper striving not so hot. Congratulations to John Meiler and wife, Fran, for subtracting two limits of catfish from the Dutch Slough population.

THE OVERALL picture of San Pablo Bay bass results is hardly exciting. Apparently many of the usual locales are holding out on the angler. Average on the Contra Costa side of the bay is very low, but Audrey Payne of San Lorenzo Bait told of Jack Patrick and Tony Barness registering with limits each from 9 to 18 pounds off Buoy 8 on Saturday. Seems like the only real hot locale is still off the S. P. buoy in 30 feet of water on bullheads. Joe Nerviani counted between 80 and 90 nice stripers being unloaded at his place at Santa Venetia on Saturday.

ANOTHER HUGE sturgeon has been taken in the Buoy 6 area. O. Z. Brandon weighed the monster (138 pounds—seven feet long) at Joseph's Resort at Rodeo Saturday. Joe's Launching across at Santa Venetia also reported three sturgeons taken out of his place.

Sunday at 5 p.m. Dick Payne and John Marino from San Lorenzo returned from taking limits of stripers from 11 to 20 pounds near Buoy 8, using bullheads for bait.

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved.

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group and their address.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Building Aide May Run For School Board

William McBride, building inspector and zoning administrator for the Town of Corte Madera, last night was given permission by the town council to run for the Lagunitas School District trustee post of Mrs. Georgette Vilas.

Mrs. Vilas is object of a petition movement seeking her recall.

Request for the council's permission was in form of a letter from Ralph W. Hahn, member of the Lagunitas School District Citizens Committee, stating that McBride has been found qualified for the post and the committee unanimously wants him to run.

McBride, who lives on Meadow Way, San Geronimo, said today he is "not very anxious" to run, since he has many other commitments, but that he would be candidate "if no one else" is chosen.

The council last night went to lengths to state that its granting permission for McBride to run in no way involves it in the recall or election action.

Short Term Councilman Is Selected

William W. Collier, 45, of 24 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera, last night was unanimously selected by Corte Madera Town Council to fill the council post vacated by Robert I. Ladow.

The appointment is until the April 14 election.

Collier, general manager of A. E. Lilly Co. in San Francisco, was present at last night's council session and promptly took his seat.

He lived in Marin County until entering University of California in 1938. He served in the Air Force as master sergeant from 1945 until 1946, then was in private business in Oregon. He returned to Marin County in September of 1958.

The council post is his first political venture, he said.

Collier is married and has four children.

Ladow was stricken with a heart attack last July and resigned because of poor health.

Girl Athletes At Redwood Elect Head

Nancy Reeve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Reeve of 14 Baywood Avenue, Ross, has been elected president of the Girls' Athletic Assn. at Redwood High School.

Other new officers are: Cynthia Pedersen of Tiburon, vice president; Kathy McDougall of Larkspur, secretary, and Robyn Hill of Ross, treasurer.

Marindale School Contract Accepted

The Marin County Board of Education last night quickly approved a contract with Fostmier Construction Co. for construction of additional classrooms and office space at the Marindale School for Handicapped Children.

Fostmeier's $48,370 bid, including an alternate for remodeling within the existing school, was lowest of five. The proposal was scheduled to be presented to the county board of supervisors today.

Architect John Coyle of the firm of Reid and Tarics, which designed the building, noted that the same company had built the original building, and that the bid was well below the $52,000 estimated cost.

The board also approved with little discussion a proposed experiment in the education of illiterates to be carried out at San Quentin Prison. It budgeted to cost $38,000, but funds for the project are expected to come from foundation grants, according to County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Three separate methods of instruction would be tried. One group would use the standard method of teaching persons to read, a second would use the "initial teaching alphabet," which uses 41 phonetic symbols, and the third would use the "words in color" method, which colors letters to indicate the way they sound in words.

The board voted unanimously to make a major increase in the number of interns used at Bayview School at the prison. The present five interns would be increased to 12, according to Asst. Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer. He said most of the student teachers would come from San Francisco State College.

Hiring of three student teachers for the Marindale school was also voted.

The Marin County Board Of Education Also:

1. Approved participation for the 1964-65 school year in the Bay Area educational television program.

2. Reviewed a petition being distributed by the California Teachers' Assn. asking for a state appropriation of an extra 100 million dollars for school financing.

3. Approved allocation of a maximum of $300 for in-service meetings on curriculum for teachers of the mentally retarded.

4. Held a short closed session on a proposed shuffle of several department heads within the county schools office.

5. Set a special meeting Feb. 17 on the budget.

6. Named board member Edith Kanoff as alternate delegate to the National School Boards Assn. conference, April 25-29 in Houston, Tex.

7. Named board members Kanoff and Adele J. Alpers as delegates to the county superintendents' annual spring conference, March 15-18 at Asilomar.

8. Approved hiring Leslie G. Simonds as office accountant and accepted the resignation, after a year's absence on leave, of Bayview School Instructor James G. Lujan.

9. Named a committee to be headed by board member James A. Carroll to study changes in requirements for provisional teaching certificates, to comply with changes in the state law.

Pleads Innocent To Burglaries

Melvin P. Barkmeier, 28-year-old prison escapee charged with the burglaries of San Rafael homes, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. set March 17 for a jury trial of the unemployed male nurse and laborer. Barkmeier, according to police, has been imprisoned in Oregon, Nebraska and California for burglary and larceny. He allegedly escaped last June from a Chino State Prison camp.

He was arrested by San Rafael police Jan. 12 as a masked burglar who reportedly entered the homes of James Bell at 331 C Street and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Schaefer at 708 Mission Avenue.

Life Cycle Of A Film Guide

Marin Women

By BARBARA HOSMER

Over the weekend more than 21,000 copies of the Fourteenth District P-TA Movie Guide for February were given to Marin and Sonoma families to aid their selection of suitable movies to see this month in local theaters.

A project of the 14th District and Marin Motion Picture Council, the guide this month has taken on a new ease of printing on a film order basis and a wider distribution.

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council's new mimeograph machine, gained through a fall film benefit, went into action last week to meet orders for 16,000 film guides for Marin schools, churches and clubs to distribute, and 5,000 more for Petaluma homes.

"WE ACTUALLY estimate that about 24,000 guides are reaching Marin and Sonoma homes, though," says Mrs. Willard E. Vernon, 14th District motion picture chairman, "because many schools are still using the old system of printing their own copies from the single copy we mail to the school chairman."

Marin's film guide progress was called "probably the most outstanding in the nation" by Mrs. Ruth B. Hedges of Los Angeles, chief reviewer for the California P-TA Magazine, who spoke here in January. It has been a pilot project of local P-TA, which bore the costs until a year ago when the Marin Motion Picture Council took up the job.

HERE'S HOW the new system worked to produce the February guide.

Last Sunday the P-TA motion picture chairman in Petaluma and Mrs. Vernon in Marin got February film bookings from local theater managers.

On Monday Mrs. Vernon's home in San Rafael was the scene of a pow-wow of motion picture chairmen for each P-TA council in the 14th District, plus members of the Marin Motion Picture Council (representing 58 local clubs, churches, non P-TA affiliate parent-teacher clubs).

They met to compile the guide—an all-day process in which they took a consensus of ratings and the most informative quote from three state and national film review sources—the California P-TA Magazine, the national P-TA magazine and The Green Sheet of the Film Estimate Board of 10 national organizations, all with trained film review staffs.

NO LOCAL OPINION is used — only direct quotes from these sources.

Cards containing these reviews are pulled for each film booked for the month from files kept by the committee and placed in Marin libraries to aid parents who telephone for information on films.

Films are rated on age suitability and given a meaty quotation from the reviews.

"We give as liberal a viewpoint as possible choosing ratings and if there is a quote with something a parent should be warned about, we use it. . . ." Mrs. Vernon explains.

If a parent wants more information than the guide has space for, he may telephone the San Rafael or Mill Valley library to ask to be read full reviews from the source cards.

MONDAY EVENING Mrs. Vernon, as 14th District motion picture chairman, typed up master guide, making several carbons.

She mailed the master guide sheets by midnight to the 14th District office in Petaluma and to Marin Motion Picture and Television Council secretary, Mrs. David R. Lawrence of San Rafael.

MRS. LAWRENCE typed the stencil for the new mimeo machine. Tuesday morning committee members gathered in the Lawrence home to run off orders for each school and bundle them for each P-TA council chairman — 16,000 copies for Marin organizations and 5,000 for Petaluma. It took all day and evening.

On Thursday P-TA council chairmen stayed home so each school P-TA newsette chairman could pick up the guides and attach or distribute them with the P-TA newsette.

FRIDAY THE 21,000 copies were distributed in schools and taken home to parents in time to serve as a guide to this week's movies or were received for distribution by the other clubs which had placed orders.

The Mill Valley and San Rafael libraries, too, have the guides available.

MRS. DOUGLAS GODFREY of San Rafael, Marin Motion Picture Council president, comments. "This seems to be the only district where the motion picture program gets such whole-hearted cooperation from the schools in the area."

The cost of the guide is 35 cents a hundred, which covers the paper and leaves enough for maintenance of the machine.

In a few weeks the process will begin again, probably with orders for an even larger printing. . . .

SOME 24,000 Marin and Sonoma families now have copies of the movie guide these women compiled last Monday. They're motion picture chairmen for the P-TA councils that comprise the 14th District of P-TA (Marin-Sonoma). Here they pull cards containing quotes of national reviewers on films to be seen in Marin and Petaluma this month. From left are Mesdames Myrel Moss, Petaluma chairman; Hal Sharrow, Ross Valley chairman; Douglas Godfrey, Marin Motion Picture and Television Council president; Willard E. Vernon, 14th District P-TA motion picture chairman; Donald L. Anderson, San Rafael chairman; Charles Defren, representing Mill Valley council, and Stanley Orman, Novato chairman.

PRINTING 16,000 copies of the Fourteenth District P-TA Movie Guide for February for Marin homes and 5,000 more for Petaluma orders is the first job of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council's new mimeograph machine bought with "Question 7" benefit money. It's a single legal size sheet printed on both sides and covering 43 current and rerun films. It took the committee a full day Wednesday to print. From left, Mesdames Ward R. Johnson, Godfrey, David R. Lawrence (front) whose San Rafael home was used, Anderson, and W. W. Gudmundson with the product.

DEBUTANTE BALL DATE ANNOUNCED

The date for the 1964 Marin Debutante Ball has been announced. The third annual ball will be held on Dec. 19.

Shepherdess New Look Of Saint Laurent

PARIS (UPI)—Designer Yves Saint Laurent's idea presented for spring today was the coy "French Shepherdess Look."

Like an 18th century print of the French countryside, the Saint Laurent willowy models were garbed almost entirely in black and white or deep navy and white, from morning suits straight through to evening gowns.

They lacked crooked poles, but the mannequins wore wide - brimmed Shepherdess' hats, some turned up in back, with wide ribbons and bows. Sometimes the bows streamed down the back. Or narrow bows tied under the chin.

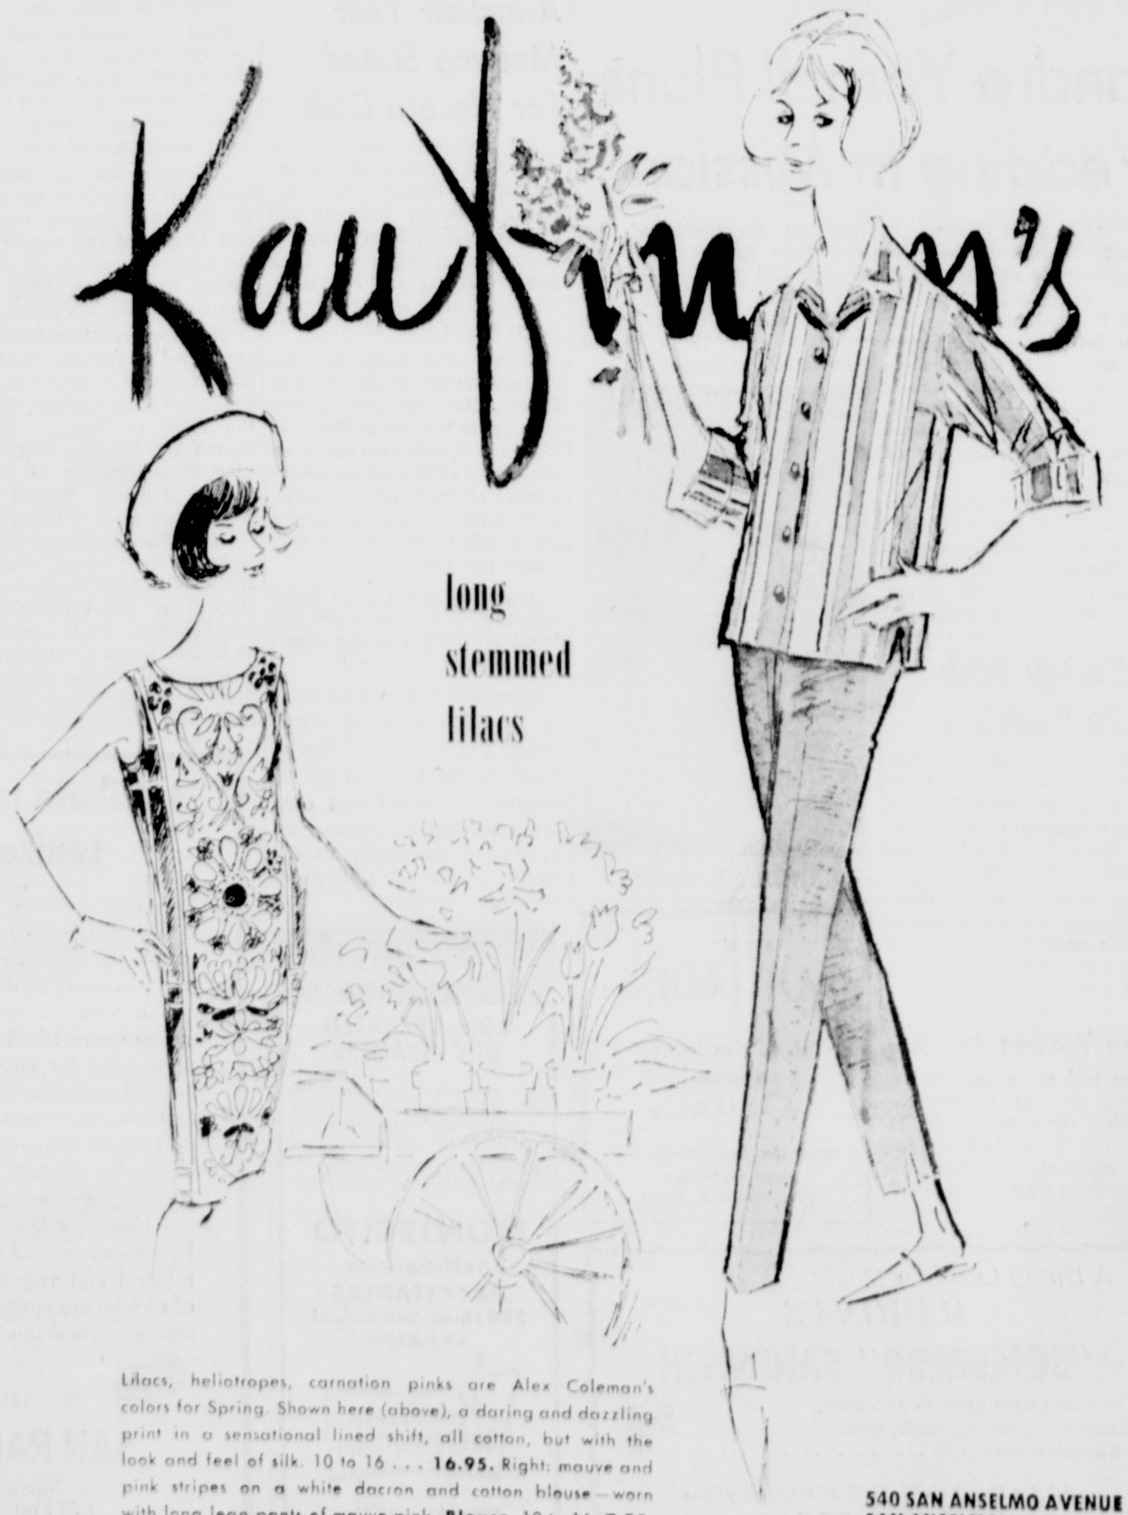

SAINT LAURENT sprinkled his black-and-white collection with single camellias pinned to the neck of black suits and coats, wide Shepherdess ribbons tied around the neck into a big bow on low-cut collarless dresses, wide white organdy collars and pointed shawls on long, billowing evening gowns.

For evening the models wore long corkscrew 18th century curls dangling down their backs, and the bride who wound up the show had one long braid intertwined with pearls and flowers.

The models tied kerchiefs around their heads to look peasant in a series of hostess gowns

ON FRIDAY more than 16,000 Marin school youngsters took home the guide for family consultation. Here West End School students Beverly Silva and Jennifer Heller get their first look at listings of February movies for Marin, as Mrs. Alice Cotton, newsette chairman of West End P-TA, distributes the film guide clipped to the P-TA newsette, with the interest of teacher Hillis Newcomb. Orders for guides are placed by each school. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean and Bob Hax)

Mamalakis-Clark Vows Are Exchanged

The Greek Orthodox Church of the Ascension in Oakland was the setting for the marriage Sunday of Bonnie Jean Clark of Mill Valley and Paul Stanley Mamalakis of Ross.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Clark of Mill Valley and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Stella Mamalakis of Ross.

The young couple exchanged nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony performed at 7 p.m. by the Rev. George Vlahos with the bride given in marriage by a longtime family friend, the Rev. Pat Castellano.

For her wedding, Bonnie Jean chose a full length gown of white peau de soie trimmed in seed pearls and fashioned with full skirt and cathedral train. Her attendants wore long white kid gloves with sleeveless dresses of grotto blue satin with bell skirts.

Maid of honor was Barbara Sturtz of Petaluma, and bridesmaids were Janice Fairchild of San Anselmo, Julianne Richards of Petaluma and Maureen Archuleta of Santa Rosa.

Paul was served as best man by Nick Pappas of Hayward, and ushering were Gae Ingrassia of San Rafael and the bridegroom's brothers, George and John Mamalakis of Ross.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's mother, and afterward the couple left for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination. They will live in San Rafael.

The new Mrs. Mamalakis was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is a senior at San Francisco State College. She is the sister of Stephen, Lynn, Donna and Darlene Clark and the granddaughter of Mesdames Margaret Wright and Eva Jensen, both of Honolulu.

Paul was graduated from Redwood High School, attended the University of Utah and is a student at the University of San Francisco. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is employed by the California State Automobile Assn. in Richmond as a claims adjuster.

A Tribute to the Louise A. Boyd Museum

The Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum is a unique center for study and observation of Marin's wildlife, natural wonders, and the wisdom of conservation.

It was founded in 1955 by a foresighted group who wished to bring natural history alive, especially for children. Supported mostly by private contributions the museum's attendance last year was 92,657. It is free. With a staff of 3 and lot of volunteers, it now conducts 18 programs for all ages, on birds, geology, lapidary, reptiles, astronomy, insects, etc.

Formerly known as the Junior Museum, it broadens horizons for all of us about the animal, mineral and vegetable residents of Marin—all of us who are curious about the past and present and concerned about the future.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

The undefined status of a toddler presents some problems to the mother. Neither all baby nor fully developed child, he needs more attention than the stay-put baby. Since he tries more things, there are bound to be more frustrations. Then too, the pressure to learn good behavior, plus the need to assert himself, make the toddler a bit unruly. Ways to ease these normal "growing pains":

• Extra tenderness to offset frustrations...extra patience at seeming perversity...extra guidance in all phases of development.

Appetite delights for busy sprites. Year-old's appetites may lag a bit, primarily because the growth rate slows down. Easy way to continued meal-appeal ... serve Gerber Junior Foods and serve 'em in goodly variety. Their extra-special goodness stems from the fact that they're "custom-cooked" to preserve natural colors and flavors and the utmost in nourishing food values. Seasoning is added with a knowing hand to suit a toddler's taste.

New and appe-teasing, too. Gerber Junior Apricots with Tapioca is made to tickle a toddler pink. Filled to the hilt with flavor it's ready and waiting to be happily lip-smacked over.

Nursery cue for you-know-who. A gallon plastic ice cream container, covered with gay wallpaper or contact paper, makes a nifty wastebasket for the nursery. Good way to help teach your toddler to pick up scraps after a bout of paper-playing.

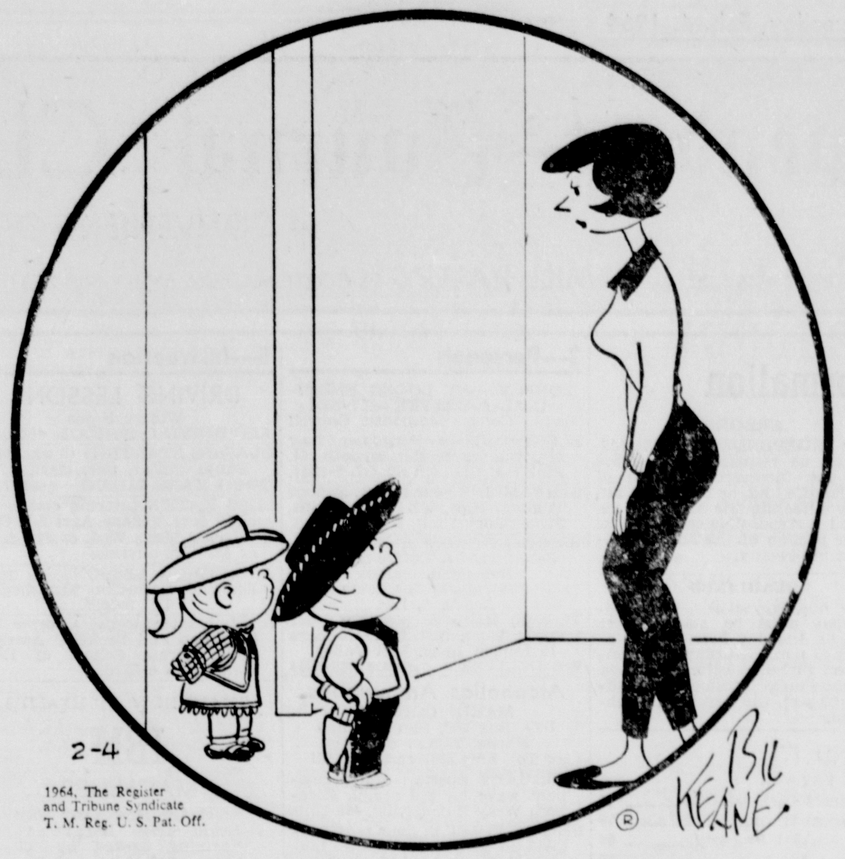

Sitting pretty. Active toddlers (and younger babies) will appreciate the roomy comfort and super-softness of Gerber Baby Pants. You will appreciate the waterproof, leak-proof, acid-proof polyvinyl film they're made of. Machine-washable, they'll last 'til baby outgrows them ... stay soft through many a washing. Medium, large, extra-large and toddler sizes, in pull-on or snap-on styles. Gerber® Products Co., Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 4, the 35th day of 1964 with 331 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1789, presidential electors cast all 69 electoral votes for George Washington.

In 1861, delegates from six seceding Southern States: South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana formed the Confederate States of America at Montgomery, Ala.

In 1926, the craze for dancing the "Charleston" reached its peak when John Giola danced the new step for 22 hours and 30 minutes to become the champion Charleston endurance dancer of the world.

In 1948, Ceylon became a free and self-governing dominion of the British Empire.

A thought for the day — Novelist Joseph Conrad said in his book "Lord Jim": Vanity plays lurid tricks with our memory."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't Open Door To Hungry Opponent When Playing Game

When the wolf is huffing and puffing outside your home; don't go around opening doors.

There's no tastier dish, to a wolf, than bridge player on toast.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

West led the queen of hearts, and South won with the ace. Declarer promptly led a club to the king in order to try the spade finesse.

HUNGRY WOLVES

Can't you see all those hungry wolves licking their chops at this maneuver?

The spade finesse lost to the king and back came a club to force out dummy's ace.

Now the defenders were in position to take a club trick when South knocked out the ace of diamonds. Declarer lost a trick in each suit—one trick more than he could afford.

DON'T FINESSE

South lost the contract by trying the spade finesse. He could reach dummy only by opening the door to a club trick for the opponents, and this was the trick he could not afford to lose.

After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts South should immediately lead a low spade.

If the opponents refuse the trick South should return a spade from dummy and once more play low from his hand.

DRAW TRUMPS

The idea is to draw trumps without disturbing dummy's high clubs. (South should not begin the trumps by taking the ace since that would be dangerous if either opponent held four trumps headed by the king.)

If West takes the first or second spade and returns a club, dummy wins with the king of clubs, and declarer draws the rest of the trumps.

South then leads diamonds to force out the ace. Dummy still has the ace of clubs, and declarer can discard his losing club on one of dummy's good diamonds.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 7 5
♥ K 9 8 4 2
♦ 8 5
♣ Q J 10 9

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts.

Despite the excellent trump support, this is a very poor hand and you can afford only a weak response.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 8 3 2
♥ K J
♦ 7 6 4 3
♣ K J 7

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades.

This forcing bid shows strong trump support with 13 to 16 points (counting distribution as well as high cards).

USED CAR SPECIALS OF THE DAY

'60 Rambler 850

4-Door Classic Custom wagon. Here's another Rambler traded in by a very perceptive customer who switched to Ford. We have found it difficult to find wholesale outlets for these cars, so you can benefit by our problem and buy this one, equipped with automatic transmission, radio and luggage rack, at a price which is $125 UNDER Blue Book wholesale! If you like Ramblers, this is a good one for you.

'61 Rambler 1250

4-Door Classic Custom Wagon. This fine condition Ford trade-in is equipped with mileage-stretching overdrive, radio, heater and luggage rack. It doesn't seem to help, though, because our wholesalers still wouldn't give us a bid on it. If they did, $1250 would be a fair price at wholesale for this one.

Of Course, We Have Many, Many More Values — All in the Brightest Lighted Lot In Marin!!

African Tribe Aids In Heart Attack Study

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A South African scientist has had a try at cooling the enthusiasm of American scientists for the Bantu tribe. Maybe he did but maybe he didn't. The enthusiasm is bounding.

It is based upon two facts:

1. Members of this South Africa tribe subsist on a diet which by American standards is extremely low in fats.

2. What Americans call the "heart attack" rarely overtakes a Bantu.

The view of science in the northern hemisphere that high fat diets such as Americans consume are associated with heart attacks is based in part on these Bantu statistics.

American scientists overlook other facts of Bantu living which may well have much bearing on their freedom from heart attacks, said Dr. Alexander R. P. Walker, a biochemist of the South African Institute for Medical Research, Johannesburg.

Compared to whites, the temperament of the Bantus shows little disturbance. Unlike American whites who have one of the highest heart attack rates in the world, "they are exemplary exponents of the creed of 'sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.'"

To this Walker added:

"While often times their lack of providence and self-reliance is exasperating, their tranquility of outlook is enviable."

Another fact is that Bantus are more active than whites and so their physical fitness is superior.

Fewer of them smoke and those who do, smoke less than whites.

Diabetes is "roughly half as common as among U.S.A. whites," Walker continued, but they may take in more alcohol, in beverage form, although they drink mainly native brews of low alcoholic content.

Another thing American scientists don't realize is that the Bantus have relatively high rates of heart diseases other than the one which is at the root of the American "heart attack." Their rate for some of these equals that of American whites, and for one exceeds the American rate.

Walker voiced his dismay to the American Heart Assn. at the number of times the Bantu low-fat diet and almost nonexistent heart attack rate is cited in the scientific literature and at scientific meetings. These citations contain "a measure of truth," he said, but all scientists must keep in mind that other things are involved.

These things, he said in editorializing in "Circulation," technical journal of the association, may well have "considerable influence" on the development of the heart attack, both directly and indirectly.

He did not wish to detract "from the modicum of retardation or amelioration of coronary heart disease in white populations that may follow prolonged consumption of a diet of reduced fat intake," he said.

"But it is hoped that this endeavor to present the situation among the Bantu will illustrate the caution required in applying lessons learned from these and similar peoples to sophisticated Western populations."

Novato Bakery Is Ransacked

The Lady Baltimore Bakery in the Novato Fair Shopping Center was entered, ransacked and an undetermined amount of money taken sometime between Saturday night and yesterday morning, Novato police reported.

The burglary was discovered by Harry Faustine of 25 Boulevard Terrace, Novato, janitor.

Theodore Weitzel of 14 Canyon Road, Fairfax, and Reuben Weitzel of 100 Bayo Vista Way, San Rafael, co-owners, told police both doors were locked when Faustine arrived. Yet there was no sign of forced entry, said officer Donal Merkley.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Small Minority Of Persons Overly Sensitive To Low Temperatures

VAN DELLEN

Exposure to cold affects people in various ways. Most of us feel uncomfortable and shivery but a small minority are overly sensitive and encounter strange reactions on exposure to a low temperature. Itching and swelling of the skin occu rin some. In others, there is bleeding under the skin or from the kidneys, with the passage of dark urine.

Occasional deaths of extremely sensitive persons have been reported after exposure for only a short time. This intolerance to cold may stem from a more complicated internal reaction involving the blood and histamine production. Hives usually is generalized, with lesions over exposed and inside areas such as the mouth, throat, windpipe, and esophagus.

WE SUSPECT that some cases of drowning in cool water may stem from cold sensitivity. This hivelife swelling may involve the breathing apparatus or the reaction is severe enough to cause fatal shock.

Some are sensitive only to freezing air whereas others react to cold liquids or solids. A young housewife was unable to remove a cold bottle of milk from the refrigerator without experiencing swelling, redness, and itching of the fingers. We placed a cube of ice on her forearm as a test and a large hive appeared over the site. Her problem was solved temporarily by wearing gloves and taking an antihistaminic product. Meanwhile, she was desensitized by exposing her to gradually increasing amounts of cold.

SOMETIMES this type of sensitivity runs in families. The reaction usually is present at birth and lasts a lifetime.

Most persons suffer from watery eyes and nasal congestion when walking against the wind on a cold day. This is normal. But I have seen reports of young people who reacted to icy gales with excessive tearing and sneezing — a typical hay fever picture. Others complain of pain in the mouth, throat and stomach after drinking cold water.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ADEQUATE MEALS

M. L. writes: How can I determine whether I am getting the right number and kind of calories and sufficient vitamins in my meals?

REPLY

The best criterion is if you feel well. We have a leaflet on recommended daily dietary allowances, that can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

MORE BLOOD TO LEGS

J. N. O. writes: Would a lumbar sympathectomy help my leg pains?

REPLY

Possibly, assuming the leg pains are due to poor circulation. The sympathetic nerves control the tone of the blood vessels. When they are cut (sympathectomy), the arteries relax. This allows more blood to flow into the lower extremities.

CUTANEOUS CANCER

C. H. writes: What does skin cancer look like?

REPLY

The majority of these lesions begin as small, roughened watery, hard patches or reddish nodules. A scab may form which falls off, only to be replaced in a few days. The important signs are that the lesions keep growing and do not heal.

PUMPKIN SEEDS

S. C. writes: Will pumpkin seeds help prevent prostate disease in men?

REPLY

No. Faddists who sell these seeds may disagree with my answer.

Medic Society Seeks Support In Oath Fight

The Marin Medical Society is seeking statewide backing in its fight for abandoning the California Medical Assn.'s so-called "loyalty oath" at the state convention next month.

The Marin society again will present a proposal for a substitute oath—a simple affirmation of loyalty—which failed to reach a floor vote when offered in 1961.

Although a slate of officers pledged not to sign the oath failed of election in the Marin society last November, those elected are unanimously opposed to the present oath which includes a disclaimer of past or present membership in any organization listed as subversive at any time by the U.S. attorney general.

Dr. Robert L. Mills, chairman of the Marin society's delegation to the state convention, has sent a letter to presidents and delegation chairmen of all county medical societies in California, calling attention to the drive to abolish the present oath.

Of it, his letter says: "We believe it is ineffective as a protection against subversion, that it is degrading to those who are asked to make a denial of guilt, and that it is entirely irrelevant to the function of a medical organization and required by no other medical society or group."

The substitute oath which the Marin delegation will propose at the convention in Los Angeles, March 21-25, states:

"I hereby declare my loyalty to the Constitution of the United States of America and agree to abide by the constitution and by-laws of the California Medical Assn."

Girl, 11, Injured By Log In Surf

An 11-year-old Berkeley girl suffered a broken right leg Sunday in a freak accident while wading in surf at Stinson Beach.

She is Molly Abel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brent Abel. The mother said today Molly was wading about 2:30 p.m. when a large log washed in and struck the girl.

She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Olive School Broken Into

Four boys, aged 11 to 14, broke into Novato's Olive School during the weekend, police reported yesterday.

Lower panels of a door to the girls' rest room were kicked out, said Officer Donal Merkley. Nothing was taken.

Merkley did not disclose how the break-in was traced to the boys, but said they had admitted it and their parents would pay for the damage.

Sausalito Properties Seek Dredge Permit

Sausalito Properties, Inc., will ask the Sausalito Planning Commission at its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. for a conditional use permit to fill and dredge land in the Locust-Johnson Street area for its proposed multi-million-dollar apartment, hotel, commercial and yacht harbor development.

Hearings on a variance application and use permit from Village Fair, 777 Bridgeway, to replace five commercial-retail shops destroyed by fire last year, and a hearing on a variance request by Edward Goliti Jr. to enlarge a building and put a cover over a parking area at 230 Woodward Avenue have been postponed to Feb. 19.

Two Take Out Papers For Fire Board

Robert E. Campbell of 1301 Olive Avenue and Kenneth L. Roche of 34 Washington Street both Novato, have taken out nomination papers for the one position which will be open on the Novato Fire District Board in the April 7 election.

Campbell has been a Novato volunteer fireman for 12 years and was a paid fireman for more than four years. He is a television repairman in both San Rafael and Novato.

Roche is a television dealer in Novato.

This makes a field of three who have taken papers out for the one position on the board. Ralph C. Briggs of 1177 Midway Court, Novato, also has taken out nomination papers. Robert J. Busher of 1757 Indian Valley Road, Novato, incumbent, said he will not seek re-election.

Sea Cove Plan Delayed By Protests

Plans for development of the Sea Cove subdivision on the Tiburon Peninsula, near the Corte Madera city limits, were held up yesterday by the county planning commission after several persons appeared to say that no scheme for increasing water pressure in the area had yet been approved.

Albert J. Weber, who told the commission he lives above the proposed development, said residents above Paradise Drive have no water now if those low-er on the hill water their lawns.

He said that if the proposed development is built, many of the upper houses might be abated as health hazards unless the water situation is improved.

He also reminded that the area has deed restrictions requiring all lots to be at least one acre in size. Commission chairman Niels Schultz Jr. commented that the commission cannot be governed by such restrictions.

The commission approved plans for the Reed Park subdivision, about five acres near Hilarita, Tiburon.

Approval of an apartment building on Lyford Drive, near Vistazo West Street, Tiburon, was held up two weeks after principal planner David Van Pelt noted plans called for cutting bank on an adjacent lot.

Also held up were development plans and a master plan for a four-unit apartment house at Lyford Drive and Visitazo West Street. Developer Heirnich Guhl agreed to cut the number of units to three, but was told to solve problems of providing adequate parking.

Larkspur Fireman Mert Bain Recalls 50 Years Of Blazes

By PHIL FRADKIN

Back in 1914, when Mert Bain joined the Larkspur Volunteer Fire Department, firemen were summoned to a fire by a gong which sounded like "a call to dinner for the whole town."

If it was really a big fire, a church bell would chime in, Bain recalls.

Fire equipment consisted of a two-wheel hose cart, a couple of axes, brush hooks, and buckets.

We'd catch hold of anything that came along to hook the hose cart up to and tear off," Bain remembers.

Bain, believed to be the oldest active volunteer fireman in the county, will be honored for his 50 years of service at a dinner to be given by the Larkspur Assn. of Volunteer Firemen Inc. at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Blue Rock Inn.

When Bain joined the department, the chief was Buck Everson He was paid $125 a month, but also drew a pension from the San Francisco Fire Department. Most of the chiefs in the early days were retired from the San Francisco Department.

Bain enlisted in the Army during World War I and served in France where he was wounded twice. He remembers returning home on the train with the 91st Division in April, 1919, to the wild march up Market Street in San Francisco, where the soldiers were mobbed by joyful citizens.

MERT BAIN
Fifty years a fireman

After being discharged, Bain went back to his job of running the Buckley Co. grocery store in Corte Madera, which he owned in partnership with his sister-in-law, Eda Nagel.

In 1924, Bain was elected treasurer of the volunteers. It is a position he has held ever since. In this post, he has seen the recent steady loss of funds from dances at the Rose Bowl sponsored by the association.

Discontinuance of the dances, which Bain saw initiated in the early 1900's, doesn't sadden him.

It's about over as far as dances are concerned. They don't go much for dancing now. It is more automobiles and television," says Bain.

A year after becoming fire association treasurer, Bain moved into his present home at 116 Magnolia Avenue, where he lives with his wife, Delma. They have two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy McCarthy of San Francisco and Mrs. Lois Eischen of Novato, and four grandchildren.

Bain figures that 50 years is a long time to be on the fire department. He might leave the association soon but then again, "I might stay on to help out the boys for a little while longer.

Shoe Shine Try Results In Blaze

Cadet Jeffrey A. Pearson, 13, tried Sunday for an especially good shine for a San Rafael Military Academy parade. Instead he accidentally started a fire.

Officials at the academy, Fifth and Cottage Avenues, said Pearson had heard that melted shine wax applied hot gives an excellent gloss. He placed a full can on his foot locker within his room about 10:30 a.m., prior to a promotions parade, and lighted it.

The melting paste spilled, however, spreading fire to the locker and floor.

Minor damage resulted and the fire was quickly extinguished. Pearson, uninjured, resorted to normal shinning procedure. He is from Miranda, Humboldt County.
